Liberal Record Keynote

Mackenzie King Says Experience Important

VANCOUVER, May 16 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King tonight appealed for the return of the Liberal administration to office on the basis of its record of "performance" and on the statement no other party could win an over-all majority in the coming election nor provide a Government representative of every province of Canada

He opened his campaign with a 30-minute speech before a crowd which overflowed the ballroom of Vancouver's largest hotel and was broadcast over the national network of the C.B.C.

It was his first public utterance on Canadian soil since the surrender of Nazi Germany and was delivered at the point from which Canadian forces will move out to fight the other enemy across the Pacific

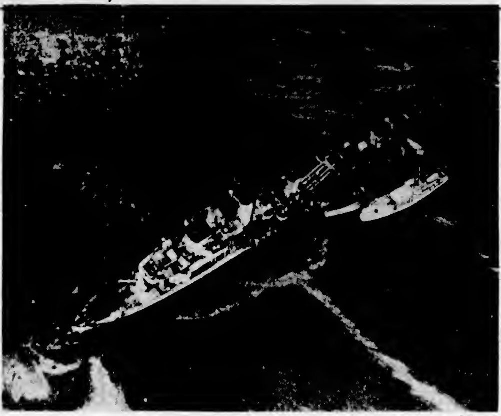

"From now on," said Mr King, "till militarist Japan shares the fate of Nazi Germany, Canada's war effort will be directed with unremitting energy, across the ocean to where the final stage of the great world conflict is now being fought."

In essence Mr King's speech was a question directed to the electors as to whether they wished to change a Government of performance, of experienced men for one of untried men who had no record of performance. He said he intended to reserve for later speeches a discussion of the Government's policies and progress for future.

Mr King warned it would be a mistake to decide the election on any single issue. The new Parliament would have many problems, including the Japanese war, and the

Canadian Destroyer Skeena Wrecked on Iceland Rocks

This aerial photograph shows the famous Canadian River Class destroyer H.M.C.S. Skeena lying at her last berth—the rocks of Videy Island in Reykjavik Fjord, Iceland. Skeena was destroyed by a furious gale which drove her onto the rocks with tremendous force. The disaster cost the lives of 15 members of her crew. It was the end of a long and heroic career which had kept her at sea almost continuously during five years of war protecting the convoy routes in the North Atlantic and taking part in operations in the Channel and off the coast of France before and after "D" Day. 500 Superforts in New Raid On Japan's Big Arsenal City Of Nagoya Start Fresh Fires

Carry Million Six-Pound Jelly Bombs—Torpedo Boats Sunk in Secret Hide-Out

GUAM, May 17 (Thursday) (AP).—Striking again with more than 500 Superforts, 21st Bomber Command Squadrons showered 3,500 tons of fire bombs on the Japanese arsenal city of Nagoya shortly after midnight today, adding more devastation to fires kindled in a raid Monday

The big planes, carrying more than 1,000,000 six-pound gasoline jelly bombs, flew low over the target area harboring the giant Mitsubishi aircraft assembly plant, the Atsuta factory of the Nagoya arsenal and other war industries

Flyers returning today said they observed fires still burning in the northern section of the city hit in the big daylight attack Monday

Besides being the second record-breaking assault on Nagoya in 68 hours, the raid was the 14th demolition and firebomb effort to put the industrial might of Nippon's third largest city out of production since the B-29's started flying from Marianas bases last November

Today's attack was centred in the area adjoining the city's inner harbor and estuary docks. Nagoya, with a prewar population of 1,500,000, also is a big port on Japan's inland sea.

MANILA, May 17 (Thursday) (CP).—A surprise raid that sank six Japanese torpedo boats in a secret hide-out in the Philippines was announced in a communique today which told also of a landing by Dutch troops on the southernmost tip of Tarakan Island, off Northeast Borneo

At the same time a Guam communique indicated the fierceness of the fighting on bitterly-contested Okinawa Island 325 miles southwest of Japan. American casualties through Monday in the 47-day-old campaign total 20,950 while Japanese casualties through Tuesday were 47,543

In addition to six torpedo boats sunk, four fuel and ammunition dumps went up when American motor torpedo boats crossed the northern arm of Davao Gulf in Southern Mindanao, in the Philippines, Monday and surprised a light Japanese naval force

The Japanese apparently were preparing to go out on a mission against Allied shipping, as the boats were fueled and loaded with torpedoes. An elaborate camouflage of branches and tree leaves failed to save them from detection.

In support of the new invasion of Tarakan, invaded previously by Australian and Dutch troops, heavy, medium and fighter-bombers expended 125 tons of explosives

They blasted, among other targets, the airdrome at Balikpapan, the great oil refining centre of Borneo

The Southwest Pacific communique reported also an advance by the American infantry to within eight miles of the former Japanese air base at Valencia, in Interior Mindanao.

Nothing Definite On "Big Three"

MOSCOW, May 16 (AP).—Informed Allied sources said today that while a meeting between Marshal Stalin, Prime Minister Churchill and President Truman might well take place sometime in the future, nothing definite has been decided

Canadians Outfought Nazis' Best

First Army Tackled 59 German Divisions

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE CANADIAN FIRST ARMY, May 16 (CP).—During ten months' fighting from Caen in Normandy to Germany, the Canadian First Army encountered 59 German divisions, an official survey showed today.

Nine panzer, eight paratroop and 42 infantry divisions were identified in the long series of actions through Northern France, the Low Countries and Germany.

The Canadian First Army's principal strength was from five Canadian divisions and two armored brigades, although British and other troops were attached from time to time.

At least 17 German divisions were so badly decimated that they were incapable of further resistance as divisional formations

The total prisoner count for the Canadian Army up to May 4—the day before the mass surrender in Holland and Northwest Germany—was 192,000. A total of 180,000 other prisoners now are awaiting disposal in those surrendered areas

The forces which achieved this splendid feat of arms under Gen Crerar's command totaled less than 28 full divisions.

From Caen to the finish, the 2nd 3rd and 4th Canadian Divisions went through all the campaign and for the last month, Gen Crerar also had the 1st and 5th Canadian Divisions. The 4th and 5th were armored divisions

Eleven British divisions served at various times in the Canadian Army

The German High Command paid the Canadian Army the compliment of consistently opposing its forces with some of the best German troops available. During the terrible late July and early August struggle south of Caen, Normandy, the crack 1st and 12th S.S. (Elite Guard) as well as the 21st Panzer Divisions were put into the line to hold the Caen hinge

After the abortive December counter-offensive against the Americans in the Ardennes, the Germans put the 2nd, 6th, 7th and 8th Paratroop Divisions on the Northern Rhine flank opposite the Canadian Army despite yawning gaps on the front facing the Americans to the South

In the Reichswald battle in February, the bulk of the enemy armor in the West, the 116th Panzer, 15th Panzer and Panzer Lehr Divisions, went into action to prevent a sudden break-through by the Canadians to the South

In the long campaign the Canadian, British and other Allied troops in the Canadian Army handed the Germans some terrific beatings

Allies Capture Dr. Robert Ley

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany, May 16 (AP).—Dr. Robert Ley, 55-year-old arch Nazi and the Reich's Labor Minister, was captured tonight by the United States 101st Airborne Division.

An American counter-intelligence officer said "This capture may be even more important than the surrender of Goering because we have proved indisputably that Ley is the mastermind behind the werewolf movement."

Dull-eyed and sullen, perhaps from fatigue and terror, the man who goaded German workers into their all-out effort for Hitler first tried to deny his identity when captured at a mountain hideaway, 45 miles south of Berchtesgaden

Cloaked behind a four-day growth of beard and wearing blue pyjamas he said he was "Dr. Ernest Distelmeyer." But when members of a United States counter-intelligence team started to query him, he reached for a vial and tried to swallow its contents

At headquarters identification was made by Frank Xaver Schwarz, treasurer of the Nazi party, and his son Franz as well as by the American officer who had known him for 13 years

POWER LIBERAL

QUEBEC, May 16 (CP).—Hon C G Power, former Air Minister in the Mackenzie King Cabinet, who resigned following the decision to send drafted troops overseas, today announced that he was a Liberal candidate in Quebec South riding in the June 11 general Federal elections rather than as an Independent Liberal as he had announced previously

MONTREAL, May 16 (CP).—Lowell T Thompson, formerly of the R.A.F. Transport Command, today was fined $5,000 on each of two charges of illegally exporting gold bullion from Canada. The charges covered the export of bullion valued at $73,000. A civilian pilot with the R.A.F. until a few months ago, he was allowed two days to pay the fines with two years in prison in default of payments

War Crimes To Be Studied

LONDON, May 16 (AP).—Amid rising criticism of the "coddling" of German prisoners of war and demands for a speedy trial for top-flight Nazi war criminals, the United Nations War Crimes Commission announced today that an international conference on German war crimes would begin in London May 31

The commission also announced that it had arranged for "certain governments" to send investigating officers into Germany to help military authorities gather evidence of war crimes there

In Paris, Allied Supreme Headquarters said ten-man teams from the war crimes branch of the European theatre judge advocate section were conducting widespread investigation of crimes committed by the Nazis against Allied military personnel as well as civilians.

In the House of Commons today Prime Minister Churchill declared he had no information as to the whereabouts of Gestapo Chieftain Heinrich Himmler but said "I expected he will turn up somewhere in this world or the next and will be dealt with by appropriate local authorities

Clamor against the Allied treatment of German war criminals continued in the British press, with The News Chronicle declaring that public indignation is now hardening into public consternation."

Jap Drive Smashed

CHUNGKING, May 16 (AP).—The High Command announced tonight that the Japanese drive on the United States 14th Air Base at Chihkiang, in Hunan Province, had been smashed in one of the most important Chinese victories of the war. A considerable force of enemy has been trapped.

Street fighting continued in the Port of Foochow. The High Command gave no further details

The High Command said two important heights and numerous villages in the Paoching area had been taken by the Chinese

Chinese forces southeast of Yangchi, 40 miles north-northeast of Paoching, continued their attacks against Japanese units retreating southward, the High Command said. Heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy.

In Honan Province severe fighting was reported west of the Hsihsiang, possession of which by the enemy constitutes a potential threat of an invasion of Shensi Province. Several Japanese counter-attacks were foiled, the High Command said

Fighters and bombers of the United States 14th Air Force slashed at Japanese forces in Hunan and bombed and strafed enemy transport and storage facilities in the Hankow-Yochow area northeast of Tungting Lake, an American communique said

BERLIN OUT OF BOUNDS

PARIS, May 16 (AP).—Correspondents accredited to Allied Supreme Headquarters were told today that neither Allied troops nor newspapermen could be expected to go to Russian-held Berlin for some time. The correspondents protested the discrediting of four of their colleagues for making unauthorized trips to the German capital, and have appointed a committee to review the penalties.

Income Tax Cut In Next Budget

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, N.S., May 16 (CP).—Early reduction in income taxes was forecast here last night by Finance Minister Ilsley in an address at a Liberal party meeting. The next budget would make a start toward lower taxation, he predicted.

He warned, however, that a complete cutback of tax levels could not be expected immediately with the war against Japan still to be won and postwar reconstruction problems to be handled.

Will Release 750,000 Men

LONDON, May 16 (CP).—Labor Minister Ernest Bevin reported to the House of Commons today that it was hoped to release 750,000 men from the armed forces by the end of the year—most of them from the army—and announced that the call-up of women for the auxiliary services has been stopped

Discharges will start June 18, the minister said, and servicemen and servicewomen in all war theatres will get an even break

The call-up age for men, recently reduced to 30, will be maintained

These statements fill in the detail missing from the original plan for reallocating manpower between the defeat of Germany and the downfall of Japan and the Government has no intention of departing from the scheme as first announced, Mr Bevin said

SEATTLE, May 16 (AP).—Sixteen United States Navy enlisted men were injured in an explosion aboard an American warship in the Puget Sound area last Saturday and are recovering in a navy hospital, naval authorities here disclosed today. No details were given

Canada's Amendment Defeated in Committee

By C. R. BLACKBURN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16 (CP).—Canada's amendment to ensure that election to the proposed security council of the United Nations organization for peace be based upon a State's contribution to the maintenance of peace was voted down today in the committee on the structure of the council.

But it drew more support than any of the numerous other amendments, all of which were voted down in favor of the joint amendment of the "Big Five" to this section of the Dumbarton Oaks agreement.

L. B. Pearson, Canadian Ambassador to Washington, presented the Canadian argument and said afterwards that he was not displeased with the result, which had been rather a foregone conclusion.

The procedure in this committee today was indicative of the whole trend of the conference which this week has seen the sponsoring powers presenting joint composite amendments on several major issues seeking to meet as many objections as possible and save time in debate.

The original clause in the Dumbarton Oaks plan merely said that the general assembly will elect the six states which would be non-permanent members of the Security Council—the all-powerful enforcement instrument of the proposed world league. The "Big Five"—Britain, the United States, Russia, France and China—will have permanent seats and the non-permanent members will be elected for two-year terms

The "Big Five" joint amendment said the general assembly will elect the non-permanent members, "due regard being specially paid in the first instance to the contribution of members toward the maintenance of international peace and security and toward other purposes of the organization and also to equitable geographical distribution

The Canadian amendment would have the assembly "adopt rules governing the character of the non-permanent members in order to ensure that due weight be given to the contribution of members to the maintenance of peace and security and the performance of their obligations to the United Nations."

Mild Reply By De Valera

DUBLIN, May 16 (CP).—Prime Minister De Valera, commenting on Prime Minister Churchill's criticism of Eire's stand during the war, said in a speech tonight that the British leader had "advanced the cause of international morality" by resisting a temptation to break Southern Ireland's neutrality."

Mr Churchill, in a world wide broadcast Sunday, said that because of Northern Ireland's friendship to Britain the Empire had refrained from violence on Eire and "left the De Valera Government to frolic with German and later with Japanese representatives to their hearts content."

"It is indeed fortunate that Britain's necessity did not reach the point where Mr Churchill would have acted," Mr De Valera said in a broadcast

"All credit to him that he successfully resisted the temptation which I have no doubt many times assailed him in his difficulties and to which I freely admit other leaders might have easily succumbed

Speaking in a moderate tone the Irish leader said he knew what sort of reply he should have made to the Churchill speech "a quarter of a century ago, but I have deliberately decided that that is not the reply I shall make tonight

"I shall strive," he said, "not to be guilty of adding any fuel to the flames of hatred and passion which if continued to be fed promise to burn up whatever is left by the war of decent human feelings in Europe. Allowances can be made for Mr Churchill's statement, however unworthy, in the first exuberance of his victory . . ."

Germany Faces Program Of Sweat and Discipline

PARIS, May 16 (AP).—A program of sweat and discipline under which Germany will have to earn her way back into the community of nations under strict military control was laid down by the Allies today

The so-called German Government of Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz was declared officially to be only a temporary stop-gap, fully controlled by the Allies while it fulfils a useful purpose as an instrument for facilitating surrender and disarmament of German forces

This was underscored by Lt.-Gen Lucius D Clay, Gen Eisenhower's deputy for the occupation of Germany. "The Allied Government of Germany is going to be military and the Germans are going to know it is military," declared Gen Clay

The commander also declared that all vestiges of Nazism would be destroyed, all war criminals caught and punished

Gen Clay said German civilian machinery will be established on a low civil service level sufficient to keep essential services functioning. The only industries being re-established are those essential for relief problems and transport needed by the occupying forces

He said American forces had stepped into Germany to stay "in all probability for a long time." It seemed likely that the realistic program he outlined for his zone would apply as well to those of the Russians, British and French. He said no decision on the actual boundaries of the occupation zones could be expected soon

"More important than that the occupation of Germany," Gen Clay reminded the correspondents, "is whether the four nations can stand together to punish Germany. If they cannot, what hope is there for the United Nations?"

In response to a specific question whether Poles or other Eastern Europeans who might not wish to be left in the Russian occupation zone of Germany could be transferred to the American or British zone, he replied, "No. They would have to be left where they are.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province

(Copyright 1945 By Southam Co.)

LONDON, May 16.—In an analysis of the next phase of events in Europe, The Times diplomatic correspondent explains that such questions as the future of Trieste, of Austria and of Germany must be discussed between the Allies so that Allied control commissions may rapidly set to work

A friendly note has been sent to Marshal Tito, giving British and American views on Trieste's future ownership. These explain that Yugoslavia can not expect to assume sovereignty over any territory by force, but must await a peace conference or other settlement. The Yugoslavia note points out that Tito has already agreed that all conquered Italian territory is to come under control of the Allied Commander-in-Chief in the Mediterranean

The Allies intend to keep Marshal Tito to this undertaking

As for Austria, says The Times' correspondent "British, United States and French missions have been waiting to go to Vienna. It has been decided that Austria shall be divided into four zones of occupation, but difficulties have arisen over the use of airfields in the Vienna region. The matter has been referred to the European Advisory Commission in London with no result so far

Delay has also overtaken proposals for defining Allied zones of occupation in Germany. The French area has yet to be marked out. Moreover, treatment of men like Admiral Doenitz, who is claiming to be head of the Reich Government, and of Himmler not yet caught, has to be settled

The Times correspondent discloses that Himmler, some weeks before he made his offer of unconditional surrender to Britain and the United States, sought to establish his innocence by giving Count Bernadotte the impression that he himself went in fear of torture and terror from his own pupil, the notorious Ernst Kaltenbrunner, who has now been captured

Much of the present confusion can only be settled when the Allied Con-

New Link-Up In Prospect

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Burma, May 16 (Reuters).—The British 14th Army, in a great double operation of mopping up disorganized Japanese remnants west of the Mandalay-Rangoon axis and hunting down fleeing Japanese to the east of it, was racing tonight to effect a new link-up in the Middle Irrawaddy Valley some 80 miles northwest of Rangoon

In this area troops from Rangoon who have swept northwest up the Prome Railway to capture the important road junction of Tharrawaddy, were only 20 miles from another 14th Army force driving southeast from Prome, last reported 91 miles from Rangoon

Their link-up would create yet another solid barrier sealing off the Japanese trapped in the southwest corner of Burma, for whom the only escape route would be by sea through the port of Bassein

MONTREAL, May 16 (CP).—Lt.-Col C. C. Merritt, V.C., first Canadian to win the Victoria Cross in this war, is expected to arrive by air from Britain tomorrow at nearby Dorval airport. Col Merritt is returning to the Dominion after more than two years in a German prison camp

Churchill States Policy on Administration of Germany

LONDON, May 16 (CP) – Prime Minister Churchill declared today that in general it was the Allied intention that "the Germans should administer their country in obedience to Allied direction."

The Allies have "no intention of undertaking the burden of admin- [illegible] Churchill asserted.

He appeared before the House of Commons against a background of demands voiced in many quarters for the Allies to disclose the exact role of the regime of Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz. But the Prime Minister made no direct mention of Doenitz.

Weighing his words carefully, Mr. Churchill said he wanted time to cast the form of his reply before answering one member's question as to what was "the authority which purported to broadcast from Flensburg in the name of the Government alleged to be led by Admiral Doenitz."

"I am not sure whether any machinery of government, whether central or regional, can be said to exist at present in Germany and, in any case, I should prefer in replying to this question to speak of administration rather than government," Mr. Churchill said.

"In general, it is our aim that the Germans should administer [illegible] directions. We have no intention of undertaking the burden of administering Germany ourselves."

Just before going to Commons, Mr. Churchill conferred with Gen. Eisenhower, Field Marshal Montgomery and Gen. Bradley.

Some of the British press wrote of the meeting as relating directly with the administering of Germany, dealing with war criminals and handling displaced persons.

There are five big issues on which it is believed the Prime Minister may have sought first-hand information from the military commanders. They are:

1. The present and future status of the so-called Doenitz Government and the measures proposed for the general disarming of all German forces.

2. The adjustment of the occupation zones according to earlier agreements. It is believed that the present position of the British, and particularly the American armies, on some sectors is considerably beyond the demarcation line.

3. The constitution of the Central Control Commission. It is thought that all central German authority will cease to function from the moment this commission begins to operate. It will, in fact, become the sovereign authority for Germany, both in relation to German home affairs and relations with foreign governments. In view of Field Marshal Alexander's preoccupation with Austria and the Mediterranean area, it is now thought that Field Marshal Montgomery will probably be the British representative.

4. Steps to be taken to bring Germans and others charged with war crimes before speedy justice. There is still no co-ordination of the lists prepared by the different countries. The British War Crimes Commission has reaffirmed its earliest decision not to publish the British list. It will issue in future a weekly communique.

5. The problem of 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 displaced persons who have to be fed, repatriated, nursed and who, in many cases, have neither country nor home to return to will require drastic decisions by many governments if yet another tragedy is to be avoided.

Surrendered German U-Boat Arrives in Nova Scotia

—RCN Photo

FIRST surrendered German U-boat to arrive in port on the western side of the Atlantic was U-889, which was escorted into Shelburne, N.S., Sunday afternoon by ships of the Royal Canadian Navy. The submarine was officially surrendered to Captain G. R. Miles, O.B.E., R.C.N., chief of staff to the commander-in-chief, Canadian Northwest Atlantic, the White Ensign raised and part of her crew transferred to a Fairmile M.L. before the U-boat proceeded into the Canadian port.

First close contact in the surrender is shown in this photo as a Canadian rating heaves a line from the boarding craft to a German rating on the submarine deck. Watching from the U-boat bridge is the German commanding officer, 26-year-old Friedrich Breuecker, of Hamburg, with other officers.

Says Hitler Knew Berlin Meant Death

By A. I. GOLDBERG

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany, May 16 (AP). — Hitler's sweetheart, Eva Braun, virtually entered a suicide pact with the Fuehrer when [illegible] Berlin, Gerhardt Herrgesell, chief of the Nazi leader's secretarial staff, told me today.

He asserted that both Eva and Hitler knew they would die in the Reichschancellery.

Hitler, resigned to his fate for several days beforehand, Herrgesell said, became dreamy and impatient of suggestions that all defence against the Western Allies be pulled back and hurled against the Russians. Eva, he said, wept and wrote a long letter in which she enclosed her favorite piece of jewelry and sent it back to Hitler's castle here. The letter and the jewel have not been found.

Herrgesell told how Hitler and his aides held a series of meetings April 20-22 during which Hitler decided that he would stay in Berlin to meet death. The secretary said he was convinced that Hitler was dead and that the death story had not been staged nor a double used in place of the Fuehrer. Herrgesell said Goering left Berlin April 20 with the understanding he would take over the Government duties from some spot in Southern Germany.

Herrgesell said he left Berlin on Hitler's orders at 10 p.m., April 22 and flew to Berchtesgaden. He said he did not know why Hitler changed his mind about Goering and ordered the reichsmarshal's arrest.

Among those who stayed with Hitler, Herrgesell said, were Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel—who was under orders to leave Berlin, Martin Bormann, Eva Braun, a Mrs. Christian, a Mrs. Junge, Paul Joseph Goebbels and his family and a General Krebs.

Eva Braun, he said, gave him her farewell letter just before he left but with only instructions to deliver it to Hitler's castle.

Herrgesell said the Fuehrer based his decision to remain on two points:

1. "I have lost all faith in the Wehrmacht and I have lost all faith in the Waffen SS (Elite Guard)."

2. "I always have given orders not to retreat. Now I can only follow my own command."

"I now make the final decision that I stay and die," Herrgesell quoted Hitler as saying.

Goebbels urged that the Nazi armies be hurled against the Eastern Front.

By that time Hitler appeared resigned to all argument and in an offhand way, Herrgesell said, remarked he was not in agreement, but if anybody wanted to keep on fighting the Russians and quit fighting on the Western Front he would let them do it.

The secretary said Hitler was not ill.

Admiral Doenitz telephoned April 22, before Herrgesell left, to "discuss something unimportant, something about changing over some coast artillery guns to fire to the East."

"The Fuehrer completely resigned absently said 'Thanks, thanks,'" he added.

NEWER METHODS

The old method of engraving glass by means of a diamond is now seldom used.

Truman Given Tariff-Cutting Powers on Committee Vote

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — The first round in the 1945 tariff fight went to the Administration today when the House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee approved, 14 to 11, legislation to extend and broaden the United States' reciprocal trade program.

Republicans voted solidly against the bill giving the President new tariff-cutting powers, but the ten Republican committeemen were joined by only one Democrat, Representative Milton West, of Texas.

Representative Harold Knutson, of Minnesota, Ways and Means Republican leader, declared "the majority today voted to create unemployment when the war ends." He predicted a sizzling battle when the legislation, involving one of the oldest issues between the parties, comes to debate on the House floor next Tuesday.

The State Department has said the legislation would permit a return to the tariff levels of the Underwood Act, not item by item but on an average basis, and would increase foreign trade, create more jobs in the United States, and contribute to international co-operation and world peace.

The measure would extend the Reciprocal Trade Act, which otherwise expires June 12, for three years and authorize the President to trim tariffs up to 50 per cent under the prevailing rates of January 1, 1945, in return for concessions from other countries.

Under present law the executive can cut duties 50 per cent below the rates of the Hawley-Smoot law of 1930, the last Republican tariff act.

Beer Glasses Less After Big Bust

LONDON, May 16 (CP) — London tavern-keepers, already plagued by a shortage of beer, have a new worry today—a shortage of glasses. Too many exuberant Londoners indulged in the custom of smashing their glasses after drinking "V-E" Day toasts.

U-Boat Officers Say Hitler Never Made Mistakes

HALIFAX, May 16 (CP) – Smiling and self-possessed, two youthful officers from a surrendered German U-boat talked to interviewers through an interpreter today and mouthed lessons well learned from Goebbels' primer for young Nazis.

Their theme was Hitler could do no wrong, he made no mistakes, but the whole world was against him and anything the Nazi system had done was quite all right by them.

The officers were junior sub-lieutenants from U-boat 190, which gave up last Thursday to the Canadian corvettes Victoriaville and Thorlock and was led to Newfoundland.

The 57-man crew of the sub will be taken to some inland prisoner of war camp.

Werner Mueller, 22, of Leipzig and Ernst Glenk, 21, of Frankfurt-on-Main, both one-time members of the Hitler Jugend (Hitler Youth), were on their first trip aboard U-190. They said the sub had five kills to her record.

The boys claimed they never heard of atrocities in German prison camps nor treatment accorded Jews of Europe but anything that had happened must be all right.

"I have faith in the system (Nazism)," said Mueller, "and I think whatever was done was the right thing.

"Hitler never made any mistakes," he said with some heat. "We lost the war because the whole world was against us. The Nazi system might have been wrong for the rest of the world, but it's still the best system for Germany."

The youths were convinced Hitler died with his troops in Berlin.

They thought the Japs were helping the Germans and "were helping them against an unfriendly world." There was the usual Nazi fear of the Russians, who would "probably tear Germany apart."

trol Commission takes up its duties in Berlin. General Eisenhower and Field Marshal Montgomery are in London, attempting to cope with present difficulties.

Another territorial adjustment in Europe is that of Ruthenia, whose Ukrainian population wants to join the Soviet Union. President Benes has agreed to the formation of autonomous government in this region of Eastern Czecho-Slovakia, and this Government has expressed a desire to join Russia.

The question is likely to be settled in a friendly atmosphere as Czech ministers place friendship with Moscow before all other considerations.

Beneath the strategems and shifts of Japanese policy, says The Times editorially, there is a single, undeviating purpose of world domination towards which the expulsion of foreign interests from Asia is only a preliminary step. This purpose has been shown in thousands of ways.

To the Japanese it is as familiar as the British parliamentary system is to the British voter. They see all the world subdued to peace by subordination of all foreign peoples to the sacred Imperial House of Japan. The idea of a master race is far deeper in the Japanese mind than that of the Herrenvolk in Germany, and for three-quarters of a century all Japan's efforts have been directed and disciplined for world war.

main task of the Government from now on would be to maintain full employment and provide social security. To make the war against Japan or any other question a single issue would blind the country to the real issues of the postwar era.

The people were entitled to ask who would be ministers if another party were returned to office, what their experience was, to look at the leaders of opposing parties, their experience and the extent to which they had participated in the proceedings of Parliament.

"A leader's strength is bound up with the strength and representative character of his following," said Mr. King. "In leading the Government of Canada I have enjoyed the support of a political party which draws substantial strength from every province from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

"At the present time the Liberal party is the only party in Canada of which this is true. If you stop to examine the situation you will, I believe, soon discover that the Liberal party in the present election is the only party with any likelihood of having members elected in every province of Canada. It is the only party with any chance of winning an over-all majority."

Mr. King ended his broadcast speech by saying he had passed 70 and had been prime minister for 18 years. His one remaining ambition was to serve Canada as long as the people continued to honor him and he was able.

Chairman of the meeting was Air Marshal R. Collishaw. [illegible] Prime Minister said Air Marshal [illegible] has one of the greatest records in Canadian history, and referred to the airman's record in the First and Second Great Wars.

Among those sitting on the platform were Premier Hart, of British Columbia; T. D. Pattullo, former premier of this province; Veterans Affairs Minister Mackenzie; Senator J. W. Farris, and numerous Liberal candidates.

Nagoya Raid

On Luzon Americans pushed north along the east coast to within three miles of the port of Lampon, an enemy seaplane anchorage south of Infanta. Light naval units supported the advance bombarding enemy shore concentrations near the port.

East of Manila, other units near the Ipo Dam were reported "pressing in from all sides on the enemy's isolated forces."

Medium, attack and fighter bombers continued their raids on Nipponese communications and defences in the Cagayan Valley of Northern Luzon and on Formosa.

Long-range patrol planes continued their night flights along the Asiatic coast, bombing an airdrome at Canton, sinking two small vessels near Hongkong and harassing communications at Liuchow and French Indo-China.

ON OKINAWA Marine patrols today crossed the Asato River estuary and entered the main part of Naha, Okinawa's capital city.

This put troops of the United States Tenth Army in or on the doorstep of Okinawa's three largest towns. The other two are Shuri and Yonabaru. No other details were immediately available.

has gotten itself into the position where of the three possible courses before it it is afraid to take any one.

First, it can send the Home Defence Army to fight in the Pacific, which it has said it will not do, and which it is afraid to do.

Secondly, it can disband the Home Defence Army and let its personnel get the jobs that ought to go to the veterans of the war overseas. This [illegible] is afraid to do.

Thirdly, it can keep the Home Defence Army in Canada doing nothing at the taxpayers' expense. The latter is what [illegible] is likely to do because it has not the courage to do anything else.

"No such farce has ever been perpetrated upon any people in the history of any war.

"If the Canadian people so far forget themselves as to put their stamp of approval upon a Government which perpetrates such an unfair war policy upon you in order to preserve its own political hide, they will but invite, for their sons and grandsons, the same unfair sacrifices in the next war as we have seen in this—the same inequities, the same internal divisions." Mr. Bracken also dealt with the party manifesto he delivered in Ottawa last night and with veteran affairs.

Perley Appeals For Re-election

PILOT BUTTE, Sask., May 16 (CP) – E. E. Perley, Progressive Conservative candidate for re-election in Qu'Appelle Federal constituency, said in an election address tonight that voters who liked fairness could not vote for his Liberal opponent, Defence Minister McNaughton.

"If the people of this constituency wish to be fair they cannot vote for General McNaughton," said Mr. Perley.

"They must vote against him to show their resentment of the treatment given former Defence Minister Ralston, who carried the load from the beginning of the war. Ralston received unfair treatment and left the Cabinet in November on the question of reinforcements for overseas.

"A few days after Col. Ralston was succeeded by Gen. McNaughton the latter had to approve an order in council making men called for compulsory service liable for duty overseas. That was what Ralston had been asking for. Col. Ralston had a raw deal."

Gen. McNaughton should have stayed with the ship in the army and be known as one of the great generals.

Mrs. Gladys Strum, C.C.F., the third candidate in the constituency, has been an outsider like Gen. McNaughton, Mr. Perley said. He had represented the constituency in the commons for 15 years and should not be rejected for a comparative new-comer.

Petain Queried By High Court

PARIS, May 16 (AP) – Marshal Petain was questioned at length today by the president of the Riom court on his alleged relationship with the anti-republican hood-wearing Cagoulard before the war and with Adolf Hitler and Generalissimo Franco.

The marshal's trial on charges of intelligence with the enemy probably will start next month, court authorities said.

In the presence of his attorneys, Marshal Petain underwent a long preliminary examination from Pierre Bouchardon, president of the High Court.

The official asked him about Hitler and Franco, to whom he was sent as ambassador before the war, and Pierre Laval.

Marshal Petain said he had had some doubts about Laval. M. Bouchardon asked him why, then, he had summoned Laval to power after the fall of France.

"In the hope he would mend his ways and improve himself in office," Marshal Petain replied.

Watches Stolen Years Ago Found

VANCOUVER, May 16 (CP) – The chance finding of two women's wrist watches stolen several years ago resulted in their being returned to their rightful owners today.

While digging in the earth of a vacant lot near his home 15-year-old William Willis uncovered a woman's diamond-set wrist watch.

His father took it to Henry Birks & Sons, jewelers, who recognized it as belonging to Frank E. Hall of Vancouver, who had reported it stolen early in 1941.

Stolen in 1938 from Potters Jewelers, Vancouver, the second timepiece turned up today when a woman pawned it at a Hastings Street broker's. She told police her husband had found it on a downtown Vancouver street two years ago.

PLAN STRONG NAVY

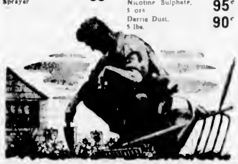

LONDON, May 16 (Reuters) – With discussion about Britain's post-war armament policies taking an increasing share of public attention, A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, assured the House of Commons today that the Government intended to have a strong, up-to-date navy with a regular replacement program.

Canadian Destroyer Wrecked Off Iceland; 15 Ratings Lost

OTTAWA, May 16 (CP).—Fifteen ratings, five of them from Western Canada, were lost in frigid Icelandic waters when a sudden night gale with sleet in its teeth hurled the Canadian destroyer Skeena ashore on a rocky island near Reykjavik, October 25 last, and pounded it to pieces.

Loss of the 13-year-old veteran of Canada's tiny peacetime navy was announced today by Navy Minister Abbott.

With other ships of a flotilla, the Skeena was patrolling the approaches to Reykjavik when the 60-knot gale struck. The flotilla was ordered to seek shelter.

A naval release takes up the story: "Skeena dropped her anchor at 10.30 p.m., but when Lieut. William Kidd, of Ottawa, first lieutenant of the ill-fated ship and on watch at the time, got a subsequent bearing through squalls of snow and sleet it was discovered that she was dragging her anchor.

"He gave the order to go ahead at [illegible] the full ahead signal just as the vessel crashed stern on at five minutes before midnight. Both propellers were sheared away and then the ship swung her full length on the rocks. Skeena was rolling and pounding when the order 'stand by Carley floats and rafts' was given, almost immediately after came the order 'abandon ship!'"

The destroyer piled ashore on Videy Island, two miles off Reykjavik, ending a career which earned her the title "the grand old lady of the Canadian Navy." She had seen action in the Atlantic and the English Channel and had scored successes against U-boats and enemy surface craft.

Her commander, Lieut.-Cmdr. P. F. K. Russell, of Halifax, was one of those who survived the icy seas.

When the Skeena's distress signal was flashed ashore, a tug and three drifters were sent to her assistance but the heavy seas prevented them from coming alongside. At 3 o'clock in the morning a Royal Navy rescue craft was forced to work around to the lee of the island where ratings were landed to cross the island to the stricken ship and start rescue work. At 7.40 a.m. a line was shot to the Skeena and the men were hauled ashore in Carley floats. All those who had stayed in the ship, including the captain and his officers, were landed safely.

The funeral of Skeena's dead was held on October 28. The men were buried with full naval honors in the war graves section of Fossaburg Cemetery, Reykjavik, a white cross with the name and number of each man at the head of his grave. Casualty list follows:

Canadian Airmen Beaten by Japs in Prison at Rangoon

CALCUTTA, May 16 (CP).—Seven Canadian airmen and a Canadian Army officer, now in India after their release from a Rangoon prison following the Burma capital's capture by British troops, related stories today of Japanese mistreatment.

The liberated men told of face-slapping by their Japanese guards, beatings during questioning and even of ruthless clubbing of one man's injured legs.

Two of the men—Flt. Lieut. Kenneth Wheatley, of Banff, Alta., and Flt. Lieut. M. C. Haakenson, Berwyn, Alta.—were flown to India and sent to Northeast India to a rest centre after hospital examination.

These other liberated men arrived by hospital ship: Flt. Lieut. Herbert Ivens Scott, Sask.; F.O. Keith Cuddy, Sanford, Man.; P.O. John Yanota, Blairmore, Alta.; P.O. Richard Corbell, Toronto, and W.O. R. W. Stephens, Windsor, Ont. The name of one other was withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

Not strong enough to march with other prisoners removed by the Japanese from Rangoon Central Jail, these men were left to await arrival of Allied troops. It was they who painted a whitewash sign on the roof telling Allied airmen the enemy had gone.

Flt. Lieut. Ivens was shot down last December and his legs were injured. They were bandaged by his captors at first but when he reached the prison the bandages were removed and henceforth he received no medical attention and couldn't walk for two months.

He was interrogated frequently during this period and when he refused to answer his questioners, they struck his swollen legs with clubs.

Similar stories of beatings by questioners were told by Flt. Lieut. Haakenson who said: "They weren't at all gentle. According to the rules, all information a prisoner can be required to give is his rank, name and number, but that wasn't enough for them. They had a man standing behind me with a club and when the answers didn't suit them, I'd get a beating.

"Ever since the American raid on Tokio in December, 1943, the Japanese have been tough on any flyers they captured. They are treated as ordinary criminals.

"The guards liked to act tough, always glaring and threatening. When a sentry passed the door of the cell I had to jump up, go to the door and bow. That went against the grain but I soon learned if I didn't make a bow I got a beating, so I did it."

The War Today

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

[illegible]

Anglo-American power to be brought against Japan is overwhelming, but the job of getting it into action beyond the Pacific [illegible] stupendous.

It involves movement of troops by the millions and their war gear half-way around the earth. There is no parallel in this war or any other for the logistic problem to be solved.

The shipping mileage to be covered and the tonnage volume of traffic [illegible] be handled mount into astronomical figures.

Warning comes from the Pacific theatre that instead of immediately easing the shipping situation in that ocean, the German collapse is certain to make it tighter. Sea transport available to ferry American troops home from Europe for redeployment, it is pointed out, still will be urgently needed in the Atlantic. A trans-Atlantic shuttle service, troops and equipment westbound and food eastward, is visualized.

Shipping will be bound direct from Europe via either the Suez Canal or Panama Canal, but it is apt to be grooved to its own job rather than become available to expand movement between the American Pacific Coast and Pacific bases.

One result of pondering on this side of the Atlantic over the vast logistic problem has been to stir speculation whether it might not be considerably simplified by putting equipment and training for Chinese troops high on the priority schedules.

There is a vast reservoir of manpower in China that given adequate fighting equipment and training and backed up by Allied sea and air power would spell the doom of Japanese armies, as advocates of that [illegible] course see it. They hold also that it would greatly lessen the burden of sea traffic.

Lived Here 34 Years

Funeral services for the late Robert Arthur Sherwood will be held in St. Paul's Garrison Church, Esquimalt, at [illegible] p.m. Saturday. Rev. R. C. S. De[illegible] will officiate and cremation will follow. Hayward's B.C. Funeral Company is in charge of arrangements. Born at Birr, Ireland, on August 4, 1862, Mr. Sherwood passed away yesterday afternoon. His late residence was 324 Quadra Street.

He was educated at Dulwich College, London; Lausanne, Switzerland, and Darmstadt, Germany. He came to Canada in 1882 and after following various professions helped to survey Lulu Island and North Vancouver in 1891. Later he served as warden of the penitentiary at New Westminster, chief of police at Kaslo and operated an insurance business at Nelson. He moved to Victoria 34 years ago and was connected with a large number of local organizations.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Anne W[illegible]; a son, Thomas, Vancouver; two sisters, Mrs. Vernon Staley, Ickford, England, and Mrs. R. P. Hedley, Vancouver; a brother, Thomas, Anderley, England, and also two grandchildren.

LONDON, May 16 (CP).—German V-weapons killed 5,000 persons, injured 21,000 and destroyed 10,000 homes in Antwerp during the German campaign to knock out the port city after it had been taken by the Canadian First Army, the Brussels radio said today.

B.C.-Yukon Loan Smashes Record

In Vancouver final figures indicate British Columbia-Yukon's Eighth Loan total has smashed all previous records.

Public and armed forces subscribed $72,348,600 during the campaign for a grand total including large applications and British Columbia's share of national investments of $153,301,700.

Of the record-breaking $72,348,600 householders and housewives contributed $53,011,950, employees invested $17,511,800 through payroll deductions and servicemen signed up for $3,824,850.

The public canvass total is more than $5,000,000 above the mark set in the previous loan.

OTTAWA, May 16 (CP).—Additional purchases of Eighth Victory Loan bonds have brought the cumulative total to $1,480,867,800, $130,867,800 over the minimum objective of $1,350,000,000, the National War Finance Committee announced today.

The total exceeds by $13,230,200 the $1,467,637,600 subscribed for the Seventh Loan last Fall at the same stage.

The committee said subscriptions for the Eighth Loan still are coming in and a further report will be made at the week-end.

Studies Report on Ship Explosion

OTTAWA, May 16 (CP).—J. R. Tolmie, legal adviser to the Dominion Department of Finance, said tonight that the report of the Dominion commission which investigated the explosion aboard the freighter Greenhill Park in Vancouver Harbor March 6 was now under study by the Finance Department here in connection with possible damage claims.

Mr. Tolmie said the question of whether damages would be paid under the War Risk Insurance Act for Vancouver damages in the blast was a matter of legal interpretation. It could only be ascertained after study of the report and evidence submitted at the commission hearings.

The commission's report on the explosion, which resulted in eight deaths, was announced here May 12. It indicated the ship blast resulted from improper stowage of combustible, dangerous and explosive material and the ignition thereof by a lighted match.

MORE "SMOKES" SOON

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP).—Manufacturers of cigarettes, short in the United States in recent months, said today an improvement in the civilian supply could be expected within two or three months. In Washington the army and navy announced that the armed forces will ration cigarettes, cigars and smoking tobacco at [illegible] and [illegible] establishments [illegible] in the United States starting June 3.

Drills for Oil in Washington Area

SEATTLE, May 16 (AP).—An oil well will be drilled by Standard Oil Company of California in Whatcom County, where two shallow wells drilled a number of years ago failed to produce, the company's district manager said today in Seattle.

B. E. Streeton, the manager, said gas and oil leases had been obtained in an area covering about 25 miles between Blaine and Ferndale, just below the Canadian border, now occupied by about 700 small farms and dairies.

He said the land was not proven and could not be without a successful test, but "there is nothing that we would like better than to develop petroleum in this state."

The ability to drill deeper wells and control direction of the shaft enables drillers to make tests that were out of the question a number of years ago, he said.

Suggest Committee to Check Amalgamation

A brief suggesting that the Amalgamation Committee [illegible] the respective councils of Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt to agree to a commission being set up by the Provincial Government to investigate the feasibility of an amalgamation was presented to the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council by Charles Chivers last night.

D. McLeod was seated as a delegate for the Sheet Metal Workers.

A donation was approved by the council in view of helping in the expense of installing a box in the main building of the B.C. Agricultural Association for the Victoria Box Lacrosse Association.

George Wilkinson and Herb Rowland were delegated to attend the forthcoming conference on Penal Reform at the Empress Hotel.

Invitations are being forwarded to all local candidates in the forthcoming Federal election to attend a meeting of organized labor at the Chamber of Commerce on June 1, following recommendations of the political action committee of the council.

Charles Marshall was elected to attend a meeting of the Foremen's Club of the Victoria Machinery Depot for the purpose of forming a committee to foster and work for the development and continuation of the shipbuilding industry.

Two Doukhobors Will Go to Prison

NELSON, B.C., May 16 (CP).—George Soukoroff, 21, and William Tupnikoff, 42, two of ten Doukhobors arrested May 8 and charged with disrobing in a public place, were sentenced to imprisonment at Oakalla Prison Farm late today by Magistrate William Brown in city police court.

Trials of 13 Doukhobors, the 13th being a woman who paraded alone May 9, were scheduled to take place this morning but were delayed when five members of the Spiritual Community of Christ arrived in Nelson to interview the magistrate, delaying the opening.

Soukoroff, when asked whether he admitted or denied the charge, said he would not admit the charge. The court then proceeded.

When the magistrate found him guilty, he said:

"I am not guilty under God's law." He had nothing to say regarding the sentence.

William Stupnikoff, who was sentenced to 14 months, when asked if he admitted or denied the charge, replied: "More or less. We have been there and we have been nude." He pleaded guilty to the charge but said that his conscience was freed.

Evolution in Germany

Evolution is usually supposed to denote progress from a lower to a higher state, but it has not always worked that way. There was a time when Germany, apart from Prussia, was a fairly peaceful land and the fountain head of enlightened thought. It was the age of Goethe, Beethoven, Schiller and Kant, men of thought and men of peace. It was at that time, prior to the Napoleonic wars, that Germany was the recognized leader in philosophy, music and science. While orderly in government the German people were free as they have never been since.

With the unification of Germany and Prussia under Bismarck all this was changed. The rulers became arrogant, dictatorial and cruel, and the people meekly acquiesced. The love of power grew by what it fed upon. First, little Denmark, then Austria, and finally France, was crushed. Even the iron Bismarck, when in his old age forcibly retired by the Kaiser from his seat of power, seems to have had some qualms of conscience about these wars. In those years of gloomy retirement he said:

"But for me three great wars would not have been fought, and thousands might not have been killed." He may have added as an afterthought: "Where has it brought me now?"

This deathbed repentance, however, had no effect upon the German rulers of the day. The lust for power increased. They organized the world's most powerful army, and built a navy second only to that of Great Britain. General Bernhardi in his "Germany and the Next War," forecast only too plainly what was to come. It was the "Mein Kampf" of that age.

It was the hope of the civilized world that the setback given to Germany in the last war would extinguish the spirit of conquest. Every effort was made by her former enemies to aid her in recovering commercial prosperity, and so to build up a better feeling between the nations. It proved only to have been used to minister to her lust for power.

It cannot all be blamed on Hitler, though he was the chief offender. It was inherent in the German people, and he became simply the living embodiment of their desires. To crush out the last trace of Hitlerism and to re-educate the Germans in the philosophy of Kant and Goethe is a tremendous task. It is, however, the duty that lies before the victorious nations, and must be undertaken if the world is to enjoy any enduring peace.

The Terrible V-2

"Only just in time did the Allied armies blast the viper in his nest. Otherwise the Autumn of 1944—to say nothing of 1945—might have seen London shattered as was Berlin." These words of Mr. Churchill were confirmed in Seattle this week by Rene MacColl, director of the British Information Services for press and radio in New York. Mr. MacColl, now visiting this coast, was in London in January and February, and, as he said, he got enough of the taste of the V-2's to recognize their terrible potentialities.

Mr. MacColl said they thought they had the V-1 flying bomb licked when in one day the anti-aircraft guns brought down 101 out of 103 that were launched, but added: "We had no adequate defence against the V-2's."

In fact it would seem that against this weapon, shooting down vertically from the stratosphere, there is no more protection than against a thunderbolt. Surely, some good Providence must have watched over Britain at this fateful time to save her cities from such devastation.

One lesson this merciless scourge should bring home is the need for some international authority that can prevent future wars in which these blind and bloodless death-dealers would be used as never in the past. Measures to this end, such as those now being concerted in San Francisco, should have the support of every lover of mankind, and with this in view smaller differences may well be overlooked.

The Lost Liners

One of the saddest features of the war on this coast has been the loss of so many fine Pacific liners that used to call at this port. The Empress of Asia and the Empress of Canada, for example, used to come and go like old friends. They brought the sailor to his wife, and traveled men from foreign lands. If we add to them the Niagara they served as links not only with the Orient, but also with fellow British subjects below the line.

A modern liner is something more than a mere means of transit. For weeks it becomes the home of thousands. On its decks people relax from the pressure of business on land, new acquaintances are formed, new friends made. It is also an educational medium for the exchange of ideas between people from all quarters of the globe. Many will recall sitting on the cool deck under tropical stars, or enjoying a game of bridge in the cosy cabin while the storm roared without. There is an air of spaciousness and safety about the modern passenger ship, and it carries all the comforts of civilization with it to the uttermost parts of the sea.

With the liners, too, have gone some of our palatial coastal Princess steamers. They, too, are like departed friends. How often the people of this city and Vancouver and Seattle have chatted together as they walked the decks or sat in comfort in their cosy cabins. In coastal service they were unsurpassed in comfort and beauty by any similar vessels in the world. The people here had reason to be proud of them and may well regret that they have gone.

In a way these dumb creations of the hand of man seemed to have a peculiar life of their own. They were spoken of possessively with a feminine "she," some indication of affection in itself. They have gone down like warriors in the fight, and so departed in heroic memory.

One consolation is that they can be replaced, as those who manned them and went down with them cannot be. No doubt in due season their places will be taken by vessels yet more speedy and modernized, and these in their time will become also like familiar friends.

Mrs. J. A. Pearce

The passing of Mrs. J. A. Pearce, wife of Dr. J. A. Pearce, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, this week after a relatively brief illness has removed a well-loved figure who for a long time had been a charming hostess at the Observatory at Royal Oak. Of a kind and gracious personality, Mrs. Pearce entertained not a few of the world's leading scientists in their frequent visits to one of the largest telescopes within the British Empire, the great 73-inch reflecting mirror at the Observatory. The wife of a Canadian who is outstanding in his own field, Mrs. Pearce had an extremely wide circle of friends, who will feel her passing as a personal loss.

Esther Edith Mott Pearce was born at Brantford, Ontario, and came to this city twenty-one years ago. She endeared herself to all with whom she was brought in contact, and was extremely active in women's work in many fields. Of a bright and sunny disposition, Mrs. Pearce made her home as memorable as was the Observatory for the many who called from the far ends of the earth. Outstanding as a wife, mother and a charming hostess, Mrs. Pearce was as widely known for her many and self-effacing charities. Her passing will leave a sad gap among those who were privileged to be numbered among her friends.

To Dr. J. A. Pearce her widower, one daughter, Josephine, and a son, Richard, and her brother, Mr. Victor H. Mott of this city, will go out the sincere condolences of a community that has lost a gay and brave personality, one who was the firm support of her distinguished husband in a difficult and exacting field of science.

Seen in Passing

It is reported that the Russians have mopped up the last of the lawless German forces that have fought on in Czecho-Slovakia since the general surrender. We imagine that the red mop has grown rather redder in the process, but gangsters who repudiate official orders deserve little mercy.

Channel Islanders are reported to have received a Canadian liberation force with unusual enthusiasm. They said that no parcels they had received had been like those from Canada, and but for these some of them must have starved to death. This is a fine tribute to the kind hearted men and women who labored that this aid might be sent.

Mr. Churchill says he has no doubt Himmler will turn up somewhere, if not in this world then in the next, and he can be dealt with by the local authorities. He did not specify what authorities would act in the latter alternative. It may be left to the symbolic gentleman with the three pronged fork.

Springtime in Victoria

Gardens a paradise to view
Artistic in design.
Myriad velvet petals display
Riot of color in grand array
Cherry and double May in line
Shade street and avenue.

Wildflowers grace every sunny slope
Emblems of joyousness'
Bluebells in pageantry aglow
Bluebirds enchanting, winging low
Where from such wealth of loveliness
Could love seek to elope?

Seldom a place could so excel
Or fill the heart's desire
For mostly friendly folk are met
Their homes in lavish beauty set
Who diligently charm acquire
Strangers observe to tell.

So dwells Victoria robed in state
Princely the gods attend
Where busy throngs the streets parade
And peace surrounds through woodland glade.
Graciously ready to extend.
A welcome at its gate.

Spirit of Revenge Sweeps Holland

By L. S. B. SHAPIRO
North American Newspaper Alliance

AMSTERDAM, May 16 (By Wireless).—The flush of liberation has now passed from the faces of the Dutch and the pallor and scars of hunger and terror have become clearly visible. In cities of Western Holland funeral corteges are much more common than food convoys. [illegible] their starvation diet, the death rate is still three times above normal. It is difficult to drive through Amsterdam without pausing at every second corner for a funeral to pass.

These people have lived with death so long they no longer recognize it. Troops passing through The Hague found their nostrils assailed by the smell of dead bodies, a smell they had experienced on many battlefields. Inquiries into the cause of the odor brought blank looks from the residents, who had failed to notice the malodorous atmosphere. Investigation revealed the unburied bodies of many people who had died quietly of starvation in their own apartments unknown to neighbors.

UGLY MOOD ARISING

Only now are the Dutch realizing the immensity of their ordeal. Until last week their bodies were numbed by malnutrition, and the entry of our troops induced hysteria as the entire population became drunk with joy. Now there is a sober assessment going on of what the Germans and their collaborators perpetrated, and an ugly mood has settled upon the people. The spirit of revenge is sweeping Holland and the authorities are faced with the problem of curbing mob spirit. Collaborators suspected or proved are being mauled nightly by mobs and bonfires are made of their furniture.

Germans still not rounded up and placed under guard in camps as well as some who pose as Dutchmen beg passing troops to take them to concentration areas. There have been incidents where Germans were shot out of hand by armed patriots.

The effects of starvation on the present generation of Dutch are being studied by doctors, but the findings are as yet incomplete. Certain results, however, are clear. There are practically no old or feeble people left alive in Western Holland. The great majority of them have died. Sickly children also have succumbed during the occupation years.

GREAT CONCERN OVER CHILDREN

Middle-aged survivors may prove eventually, to be the healthier despite the extreme discomfort all have suffered, because one of the commonest causes of ailments of the middle aged in Holland has been overeating. Great concern is felt by the medical authorities over the future health of growing children. Steps are being taken to regulate the diets of surviving children in order to counteract the effects of past malnutrition and to produce a strong generation for the future. Medical scientists are hopeful no permanent ill effects on the future health of the Dutch will result from the ordeals of the past five years.

Food distribution is still going slowly but is gaining momentum. The country will require imported food on a large scale for at least eighteen months before the flooded dun-lands and communication systems are restored. The Dutch are confident that Britain and America will continue to supply them with food until a normal situation is restored.

This correspondent has noted no demand for German labor to aid the Dutch in rebuilding. Holland has an ample surplus of labor, and the Dutch want to get rid of the Germans as quickly as possible and hope never to see them again.

The next month will be a critical one for Western Holland but the authorities are confident that the traditional good sense of the people will prevail.

DEFENDS CHAMBERLAIN

Sir,—Amidst the general feelings of relief and joy at the defeat of the deadliest gangsters the world ever knew, my thoughts today have often turned to the man to whom we owe a very great deal, yet who as yet gets little credit for what he did for us. I firmly believe that in years to come he will receive the praise and credit he richly deserved.

I refer to Neville Chamberlain. If he had gone to Munich, Hitler would certainly have attacked England in 1938, and she could not possibly then have stood against the German might. Chamberlain was no fool, and knew that he had to stall for time. People say he was to blame for England's not being prepared, but this is not so.

Another thing, Hore Belisha tried hard to get England to declare war on Russia when Russia was fighting Finland. Chamberlain refused to do so, and many people criticized him severely then for this refusal. If he had done so, where would we be today? It was not long after this that Hore Belisha was removed from his position by Chamberlain, with no explanation.

Many thinking people in England and in Canada are convinced that Chamberlain saved the British Empire and the world on these two occasions, but more people at present believe that he was a weakling and an appeaser. He didn't really like appeasement any better than the rest of us but knew that it was the only way to give us all a little more time to prepare. He wore himself out for his country, as did President Roosevelt, but it is sad that he died misunderstood by so many. Time will give him his rightful honored place in history. I am convinced.

"BRYDEN ESTATE"

Sir,—Mr. R. G. Humphries in a letter published in your columns last Saturday sets forth what he is pleased to call his objections to the purchase of the "Bryden Estate" as a school and community playground.

Apparently the gentleman has not given the matter very thorough consideration as his remarks concerning the "Transfer Field" shows lack of knowledge of the subject. The "Transfer Field" is made up almost entirely of rock and timbered slope and the only part that might have been used as a playground is now entirely taken up with houses, built or building. There is not even an entrance to the "High Rocks" within easy access to the school. What kind of sports activities could be indulged in on the site mentioned I would not hazard a guess. Mr. Humphries should be aware of these facts as he was, I think, on the council when the property was subdivided and put on the market.

Your correspondent mentions the present parks and playgrounds as being sufficient. The only playground suitable for school sports is situated some 15 minutes walk from the Lampson Street School and would not be available to children if any senior sports aggregation wanted to use it. There are no toilet facilities nor dressing rooms where local or visiting teams could change.

As for "squandering money," as your correspondent suggests, I fail to see how the purchase of an asset could be called by that phrase. The money that it is proposed to use was from the sale of property taken over by the Government at the beginning of the war. We now hope that the taxpayers will see fit to use one-tenth of that sum for the purchase of something that has been needed for a long, long time—a school and community playground where our boys and girls can take part in properly organized recreation to their mental and physical betterment, and thereby contributing to the welfare of the community as a whole.

"DAWN IS BREAKING"

Sir,—In an editorial on the 15th ult., under the above caption, in referring to the "tide of brutal conquest," as ebbing, you remark that if men cannot see God's hand in that, they have lost their way. For what has happened now is perhaps the greatest miracle known in our time. For truly, without underestimating in the least our great generals' wonderful tactics and strategy, it cannot be denied that a destiny greater than man's guided the fortunes of battle.

For why should the miracle of Dunkerque have occurred? Why should Hitler have stopped short of crossing the 22-mile-wide Channel? Why was Malta, bombed more than 2,000 times, not wiped out of existence? Why should the Luftwaffe, when on its way to London during the Battle of Britain, have been suddenly and mysteriously called back? Why did the one who called our generals idiots commit the idiotic blunder of attacking Russia and of declaring war on the United States?

Because to use the confession of Lieut.-Gen. Sir William Dobbie: "I am sure that the continued safety of Malta was ultimately due to God's divine protection." Or, as General Montgomery expressed it in a recent address: "This is the Lord's doing; it is marvellous in our eyes." (Psalm 118, xxiii.)

Yes, "right triumphant has taken the final field of all," not to the vainglory of man, but to the glory of God Almighty.

West, void of his partner's heart suit, led the spade ace and, when East encouraged with the 10, continued with a second round. Dummy ruffed—but that was just about the last correct play made by the declarer and the outcome was a four trick, 700-point penalty.

Now let's consider that four club bid of South's. (A revolting task but as analysts we must be strong.) Perhaps the best and quickest way to dispose of it is to observe that if East had passed over one diamond, South would have had to stretch a bit to respond with even two clubs, instead of one no trump. That he should have had the unmitigated gall to enter the auction at the four level, with that anaemic five-card suit and with no substantial values outside, passes all understanding.

Then of course, in the play, South managed to go down at least one more trick than he had to. After ruffing the second spade lead, he could have cashed the club ace and led a low diamond to the jack. West's best return after taking the queen, would be a diamond. This would let South discard a spade while West was using up his trump trick.

Rail Employees Back at Posts

MONTREAL, May 16 —Something more than merely carrying out the letter of the law will be practised by the Canadian National Railways in reinstating employees returning from war service, according to a letter sent by R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president to vice-presidents and heads of departments.

More than 1,800 Canadian National employees have reported back [illegible] armed forces and have been re-established. Mr. Vaughan pointed out that they represented only about 8 per cent of the employees who have been granted leave of absence to serve with the forces. "It is obvious," he said, "that the satisfactory re-establishment of those who wish to return to the railway will demand our best attention for a long time to come.

"In common with all employers in Canada, the Canadian National," he said, "has certain very definite legal obligations to its employees when returning from war services. These are contained in the Reinstatement to Civil Employment Act, 1942, and in the Reinstatement Regulations set forth in Order in Council P.C. 77 of January 11, 1945. [illegible] carry out the letter of the enactments, something more is required," the president emphasized. "We must make sure that each individual is given a hearty welcome back to our ranks and more to feel the genuineness of a friendly greeting."

Made up of representative and experienced officers, a civil re-establishment committee has been set up at system headquarters to give guidance and, in some cases, official direction with respect to procedure. The majority of Canadian National employees, it is pointed out, are covered by labor agreements and their reinstatement will be in accordance with established processes.

Mr. Vaughan appealed to all officers to take a keen personal interest in the matter, to the end that the reputation of the Canadian National, in connection with this vital aspect of Canada's war effort, shall be second to none."

A Pimple Covered Face Kills Many a Romance

The lives of many young people are made miserable by the breaking out of pimples, and you probably know of cases where a promising romance has been spoiled by those red, white, festering and pus filled sores on the face.

The trouble is not so much physical pain, but the mental suffering caused by the embarrassing disfigurement which very often makes the sufferer ashamed to go out in company.

The quickest way to get rid of pimples is to improve the general health by a thorough cleansing of the blood.

Burdock Blood Bitters helps to cleanse the blood and with the blood cleansed the complexion should clear up.

Allege Marketing Act Violation

VANCOUVER, May 16 (CP).—Charges of violating the Co-operative Marketing Act brought against the Canadian Fishing Company were adjourned for one week by Magistrate W. W. B. McInnes in police court yesterday.

The Canadian Fishing Company is charged with a breach of a marketing contract between the producer, Melvin Moss, skipper of the fishboat Rose N, and his crew and the United Fishermen's Co-operative Association.

It is alleged by the Crown that the fishing company accepted or received for sale a product of Moss with full knowledge of his contract with the co-operative and contrary to the regulations laid down in the act.

Captain Moss testified to selling shark livers amounting to $18,500 to the Canadian Fishing Company on March 13.

He had first offered the livers to the co-operative but they had refused to take them at his price, he said.

Two points of law were raised by Defence Counsel N. D. Hossie. First, that the Crown failed to prove that the contract between the parties was enforceable at law, and secondly, that the contract was with Moss and not with the crew as alleged by the Crown.

Magistrate McInnes, in adjourning the hearing, told the prosecutor to address himself to two points in his argument at the next sitting:

1. Is a fisherman a producer?
2. Does the offence section of the act cover the transaction, the fish [illegible] having been turned in [illegible]

Eisenhower Enjoys "Night" in London

LONDON, May 16 (AP).—Gen. Eisenhower visited London last night for his first night out in three years, and in his own words, it was "The nicest night I've had since the war started."

In high, good humor, the Supreme Commander exchanged banter with cheering West-End throngs. Londoners tugged at him, patted him on the back, shook his hands and shouted repeatedly, "Good old Ike."

Eisenhower attended the revue "Strike It Again" in company with Gen. Bradley, commander of the 12th Army Group and spoke briefly after spotlights had been turned on the box.

"I wonder if you people realize what it means to me to be back here among friends," he said and then drew laughter when he added: "Among people whose language I can almost speak."

OLD DISEASE

Various types of cancer were recognized and described in 400 B.C. by Hippocrates.

John Bracken—The Farmer

On the 11th of December, 1942, John Bracken stood in the Auditorium in Winnipeg before a great concourse of people. John Bracken — the Farmer — was accepting the leadership of a great resurgent people's party. In ringing tones he was speaking of "The People's Charter". And the soul-searching sincerity of this man of the soil, with his vision of Canada, of Canadians and the "world of plenty that lies within our grasp" was deeply moving.

Picture the background of this man — this moment. John Bracken, the farm boy, on his father's farm in Ontario, milking, haying, carrying in the wood, plowing . . . then young Bracken, honours student at the Ontario Agricultural College going to Manitoba as representative of the Department of Agriculture . . . on to Saskatchewan as Superintendent of Fairs and Farmers' Institutes and Secretary of the Provincial Livestock Association . . . then, later, John Bracken, author, writing books about farms, farming, farmers . . .

And now years later, in Winnipeg, John Bracken, the farmer, is speaking of "the right of farmers and other primary producers to a fair share of the nation's income." Notice the simplicity of the language he uses, clear, concise — sincere.

"During the last decade," he is saying, "farm income fell to such a low average as to become of very great concern in our Canadian economy. It is the responsibility of the nation to see that this great inequity shall not be perpetuated."

Then, suddenly his voice rises, becomes even clearer, more incisive. "I may say quite frankly that if it had not been for that plank in your platform, which provides for a square deal for agriculture, I would not be here."

Two years later, in Alliston, Ontario, — again the same simplicity, the moving sincerity.

"I am an agrarian," said John Bracken, "and I am a Canadian . . . who seeks to correct the major social injustice of our day — the unfairly small share of the national income that goes to farmers and farm women and farm workers." Then, with a statesman's enlargement of vision, he added, "When the injustice to the farmer is removed, the economy of Canada as a whole will be strengthened."

No one could be less parochial in his outlook — more deeply concerned with national welfare than John Bracken, the farmer who embarked twenty years ago on a career so successful as to be without precedent in contemporary political history within the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Former Internee of Japanese Happy to Be Home

B. Staff Photographer

Miss Mary Collis Hallowes, who has spent three and a half years as a prisoner of the Japanese in the Philippines, was welcomed home by her mother, Mrs Francis Hallowes, this week. "I cannot begin to tell you how wonderful it is to be home" she said when interviewed at The Priory, where she and her mother are guests. Miss Hallowes told a vivid story of prison life.

Tells of Internment Camps

"As it was just a raid we had to pack our belongings in a few minutes. We were taken by alligator amphibious tanks across the Bay to freedom" were the words of Miss Mary Collis Hallowes who was greeted by her mother Mrs Francis Hallowes, The Priory, Pemberton Road, Tuesday morning on her safe arrival in Victoria.

Miss Hallowes left Victoria three and one-half years ago for Manila where she lived for a month before the Japanese came in. Most of the time was spent in the internment camp at Santo Tomas until she moved last November to Los Banos. Miss Hallowes was one of the many hundreds of prisoners who were freed by a dramatic entry made by the Americans on February 23 of this year.

During the last year of the internment Miss Hallowes said they were all on a starvation diet, receiving no meat and living on rice with husks and palay. Fortunately she added there was sufficient calcium in the water.

The camp afforded no privacy and as many as 60 women slept in one room. Miss Hallowes suffered from beri-beri and was exhausted at all times. For six months she slept on concrete. With many of the women she worked in the hospital. Japanese snipers she recalled often threw hand grenades. The Americans killed the Japanese captors, but had trouble with those who hid in the jungles.

The American Red Cross showed all who were interned the utmost consideration and care. Miss Hallowes spent the six weeks from the time she was liberated till the tenth of April when she left Manila under medical care.

Grateful for her freedom Mary Collis Hallowes is at home in Victoria. Her own words "I cannot begin to tell you how wonderful it is to be home" echo three and one-half years of waiting and anxiety.

Overseas Wives Hear Dr. Ewing

"It's not who you are, but what you are," Dr John Ewing principal of Victoria College explained to the overseas wives at the Wednesday afternoon class, held in the showrooms of the B C E R Co., in an informal talk about Canadian customs and Canadian people.

Speaking of Victoria as one of the real beauty spots of Canada, Dr. Ewing advised the British wives to be tolerant, make no comparisons, and make friends with the Canadian people and not form cliques. Advantages to be gained were in education which was of a high standard and available to all and no social division.

Mrs A B O[illegible] presented Mrs M A Foulds with a corsage of gardenias on behalf of the overseas wives and a gift of a candy dish. Among the guests were Mrs K M Massey, Mrs J C Foote, Miss Sara Spencer, Mrs W Redfern, Mrs C Teakle, Mrs F H Sanders, Mrs C Adam, Mrs F Siddons, Mrs I V Groat, Mrs V M Smith, Mrs Rotherham, Mrs W H Parker and Mrs W G Colquhoun. New members included Mrs A E Murray and Mrs E Wood. Caring for the children were Mrs I R Cleator, Mrs D Garrock and Miss Margaret Waterhouse.

Attendance prizes were won by Mrs A Bitz, chicken; Mrs E Wood, banana cake; Mrs A Oxley, gingerbread; Mrs F F Patterson, cake; and Mrs C Gilland, cookies. Mrs C H Pe[illegible] announced that the next meeting will be held Wednesday at the Y W C A.

Beside the dolls there will be shown soft toys and woodwork toys made by the Greater Victoria schoolboys. Seventh Child Six Times Safe

BALTIMORE, May 16 (CP)—Six times in her 26 years, death came close to Ruth Pimlott-Schwed, last of seven children—and six times death has missed.

Shipwreck, landslide, collision, bombs and fire all have figured in the close calls of the English-born girl who now is a sergeant in the United States Marines.

She is the last of a family of seven children. Her three brothers lost their lives fighting for England. German bombs killed her three sisters.

She escaped a wild storm swooping down upon her small sailboat in the English Channel. A Rocky Mountain landslide buried a train, seriously injured her parents, but left her unharmed. A bus in which she was a passenger crashed and overturned and she was not hurt.

She went with her parents to visit an aunt in Manchester, England, one night while her sisters remained at home in Coventry. That was the night bombs of the Luftwaffe ground Coventry to rubble.

Sergeant Schwed had a double escape on the night of November 28, 1942, when she went with a group of friends to Boston's Coconut Grove nightclub. She left the party for a few minutes, and in those minutes the fire that killed 492 persons broke out.

She returned not knowing of the fire and started pushing through the revolving door at the entrance. A woman rushed out with her clothing aflame and the impact of her onrush swung the door completely around. The seventh child was catapulted to the street and safety instead of into the fiery death trap inside.

The marine sergeant, who is on duty at the Baltimore recruiting office while the husband she wed at Easter is on a shakedown cruise, says that she has one unfulfilled ambition. Disaster from air, land and sea has passed her by—now she wants to fly.

Seek Protection For Night Shift

VANCOUVER, May 15 (CP).—Legislation compelling employers to arrange and pay for the cost of transportation to their homes of all women employees who get off work between midnight and 6 a.m. was asked in a resolution from the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' Union, Local 28, and endorsed by a meeting of the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council here tonight.

Delegates discussing street car service passed a motion that city council hold a special meeting on the one-man car question, act on the results of a former plebiscite on the matter and send a representative to the public hearing May 28 to express the wishes of the people of Vancouver.

Mother of 11 Hits New Feminine Type

CANBERRA (CP).—Reporting to the National Medical Health Committee, Dame Enid Lyons, M.P., widow of Australian Prime Minister Joseph A. Lyons and mother of 11 children, and Lady Cilento, specialist mothercraft lecturer at the University of Queensland, said:

"Fashion today decrees small families, or even no children at all. A feminine type, inspired by Hollywood, and distinguished by a sophis- [illegible] the mother, who once occupied a place of great honor assigned to her by Christian civilization.

"Popular reading matter tends to make fashionable a type of feminine beauty not associated with maternity and a mode of living unsuited to the claims of children.

"The result is that, unconsciously, the modern woman is led to believe that motherhood in any other than a very limited form, is undesirable."

"Young mothers, for their motherhood, get little of the popular esteem enjoyed by the Hollywood type.

"Grace and charm are cultivated by most sensible young women today. Good luck to every young mother who tries to retain and foster all the gaiety, beauty and happiness life has to give her. Motherhood, properly understood, regulated and nurtured, brings health, happiness and beauty to women."

FUTURE IS UP TO GIRL HERSELF

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My mother died six years ago and as I was married and had a home for her my younger sister of 12 came to live with my husband and me. Everything went along fine until she started going out with boys. She has a part-time job, after school, and there she met an older boy and has gone crazy over him.

This isn't the first boy friend she has had, and she has gone to school parties, dances, etc., with boys, but this is the first time she's ever acted this way. She won't take any advice from me and tells me to mind my own business. She says I'm old-fashioned (I'm only 23 and she is 18).

She sees this boy every day and he takes her home and stays until all hours, sometimes early in the morning. They had talked of marriage but he backed out, when he saw she was serious.

I need someone's advice, Miss Fairfax. I've thought of asking her to go somewhere else to live and paying her board, but I hesitate because she's my sister.—Discouraged.

There is no situation more painful than the one you have described—a young girl bolting to goodness only knows what tragic fate. The young man shows plainly he's not serious since he declined to go through with the marriage when he saw your sister was in earnest.

In her present frame of mind it would be better not to ask your sister to leave your home. Let her feel that in spite of everything you love her and have her interest at heart. The future is plainly up to the girl herself.

BE WORTHY OF PARENTS' FAITH

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I'm a boy of 17 years of age and will soon be leaving for the service. I like a certain girl very much but her parents don't approve of me because I did something wrong. They seemed to like me before that came up.

I am [illegible] anxious to be friends with this girl [illegible] I've always thought a great deal of her and I want to make up with her parents. How can I explain to them that I'm sorry for what I did? The girl will soon be leaving for training as a cadet nurse.—A Reader.

I wish you had been a little more frank with me and told me what it was you did that caused [illegible] parents to disapprove of [illegible] and object to [illegible] ship with their daughter.

Green Criticizes Liberal Refusal

VANCOUVER, May 16 (CP).—Refusal of the Federal Government to tell the Canadian people how large an army will be used in the Pacific war "is a political dodge," Howard Green, Progressive Conservative candidate seeking re-election in Vancouver South said at a campaign meeting here tonight.

"The Government has known all along how many troops will be sent to the Pacific," he stated.

He suggested that it was possible 100,000 men from Canada would be needed to fight Japan if casualties are heavy "instead of the 25,000 men rumored."

Policy of the King Government, he said, means the two-army system is to continue until the home defence troops "vanish." It means "unequal service and sacrifice."

"I don't believe overseas men should be asked or expected to volunteer for Pacific service while there are troops in Canada that have done nothing. I believe in one army—an army that fights—and equal service across the country."

In a review of the policies of Federal parties, Mr. Green said that the Liberal Cabinet is a "pale pale shadow" of the 1940 Cabinet and that the "King Government depends for survival on the support of Quebec."

"British Columbia Liberals are just a tail to the dog—and they don't even wag the tail."

Freidin represents The New York Herald-Tribune and Groth the American Legion Magazine and The Magazine Parade.

LYON, France, May 16 (Reuters).—Strikers demonstrating tonight forced the gates of the Prefecture and marched into the building singing the "Internationale." They demanded to see the commissioner for the area. Yves Farge, declaring they wanted "action, not promises and speeches."

The strike was called to enforce demands for social reform.

Seagrams Offer Debenture Issue

A nationwide group of 83 underwriters is offering $50,00,00 of Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, Inc., 20-year [illegible] 1965, at 102 per cent and accrued interest.

Direct obligations of Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, Inc., an Indiana corporation, the debentures are also guaranteed by endorsement as to payment of principal and interest, by Distillers Corporation-Seagrams, Limited, parent organization.

Net proceeds from the sale of the debentures will be used to retire $15,000,000 of bank loans, and the remainder will be added to working capital. The total credit available to Joseph E. Seagram & Sons and subsidiaries under the revolving bank credit agreement to be terminated, was originally $75,000,000.

The company anticipates the need for additional working capital after the war to finance increased receivables and the production of inventories for ageing purposes. Its inventories are now below normal requirements due to the use of facilities for the manufacture of war alcohol.

Objects to Paying Poll Tax to City

VANCOUVER, May 16 (CP).—W. Howett was fined $10 when convicted in police court today of a charge of failing to pay his poll tax. Evidence revealed that Mr. Howett paid his 1941 tax in 1942 and had paid nothing since that time.

Testifying in his own behalf Howett said: "As an Englishman I object to paying $5 on my head. . . . This province and that of Saskatchewan are the only ones that I know of that impose this tax. . . . In England we have been fighting just such a tax for the past 500 years.

"I will pay this tax when our friend the Attorney-General shows me the right to levy such a tax," Mr. Howett concluded.

Iodized Salt and Goiter

By DR. J. B. WARREN

In 1924 25 per cent of all the Detroit school children showed enlargement of the thyroid gland. In 1932 only 1 per cent had any such enlargement. This result was obtained by putting iodine—sodium subiodide—in the regular table salt.

The Great Lakes district has soil that is lacking in iodine. In districts where there is enough iodine in the soil, no iodine should be put into the drinking water.

Red Ensign Flown Atop Peace Tower

OTTAWA, May 16 (CP).—The Red Ensign—with the Union Jack in the upper right-hand corner and the Canadian Coat of Arms in the fly—replaced the usual Union Jack on the flagstaff of the Peace Tower of Canada's Parliament Buildings here on the morning of "V-E" Day at the request of Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Government sources said tonight thet the Prime Minister wired from San Francisco that the Red Ensign was to fly from the Tower from dawn to sunset from "V-E" Day, May 8, until the following Sunday, which Canadians observed as a national day of prayer.

The change was made as a tribute to Canada's armed forces for it was under the Red Ensign that Canadian soldiers fought in Europe.

The ensign, used on many Canadian state occasions since Canada has no national flag, also flies with the flags of the other United Nations at the San Francisco Security Conference. It was raised there at the request of Mr. King.

SPORTS SLANTS

By SID THOMAS

Earlier reports that Maxie Schmeling, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, was killed in action are erroneous, according to The Stars and Stripes, official newspaper of the United States Army.

The German fighter is very much alive, according to Major Clement Wheeler, U.S.A.A.F. officer from San Antonio, Texas, who talked with Schmeling recently when he visited a prison camp behind the American lines to which Schmeling had fled.

The story of "Der Maxie's" whereabouts appeared in The Stars and Stripes and was forwarded to this country by Austin Bealmear, Associated Press writer. This is what Bealmear wrote:

"Max was wearing civilian clothes and looked prosperous," Wheeler said.

Wheeler said that when he mentioned Joe Louis, the last world champion heavyweight and now a United States Army sergeant, Schmeling sneered and left the impression that he considered the American negro "just lucky" in knocking him out in their second match.

In a slap to American sports writers, Schmeling was quoted by Wheeler as saying:

"They never gave me a square deal in all the time I was in your country. Even when I won, they either said I was lucky or a big bum who could knock down a bigger bum. The only time they gave me any space in the papers was when Jack Sharkey fouled me." That was how Schmeling won the title.

Wheeler said Schmeling told him he was "through for good" and that his career as a fighter ended when he jumped on Crete with German parachutists in 1942.

"I broke my back when I landed and almost died," Wheeler quoted Schmeling as saying.

"Then I got back to Germany from that long time in hospital and they let me out of the army."

Wheeler told The Stars and Stripes:

"He's a Nazi through and through. No better than Hitler, Goering and the rest. Maybe he's even worse."

And so at last we have the lowdown on Maxie Schmeling, former heavyweight king and the only fighter to defeat Sergeant Joe Louis, present world's champion at a time when the "Brown Bomber" was in the fistic spotlight.

DIAMOND DUST

Erratic play in the first two games of the 1945 season was to be expected. Bad weather during the training season made it impossible to condition the clubs in time for the opening and uncertainties regarding player material was another drawback, but the calibre of play will improve as the season rolls along . . . On the strength of their first performance, R.C.A.F. have a much stronger club than last year and are likely to improve even more. Infield play of the airmen was steady and at times brilliant, while they are strong behind the plate, with Cliff Kilburn making a good impression. A flight lieutenant in the R.C.A.F., Kilburn is back after four years of overseas service, including a complete tour of operations . . . Fans should not be led astray by the first appearance of George Boston. The veteran southpaw has plenty of what it takes to make a winning pitcher and given hot weather and adequate catching support, will make it uncomfortable for opposing batters before the season ends . . . Coaches would do well to devote a practice session to the art of baserunning after the mixups in the first two contests . . . Gordie Hunt, who hails from London, Ont., handled his chores at the keystone bag neatly, and Norm Fairhurst, former Edmontonian, appears to be a steady performer at third base . . . Ossie Degrow and Irwin Scott, fastball stars, handled themselves well and should come along very nicely as they pick up added experience . . . Fielding highlights of the game were turned in by Harry Holness who made a great pick-up of Barlow's grasscutter in the fourth and took the runner with a bullet throw, and "Pop" Pay, who made a sensational backhand stab of Boston's bid for a base hit and won the race to the bag. Stout, Werstine and Hunt also came up with neat fielding plays . . . Hunt's handling of a double-play ball in the third was perfection and he took the runner at first by plenty . . . Army players claimed Hancock had committed a balk in the ninth, but Umpire Tommy Restell had called time and they lost their protest . . . Navy and V.M.D. will renew hostilities tomorrow and both clubs are primed for a win. Cy Shillito will journey down from Chemainus to do the hurling chores for the shipyarders against a sailor nine boasting most of last year's line-up . . . It seems likely that the league-leading Bellingham club will offer the first inter-city attraction of the year, tentative plans calling for them to appear here on May 24 against the Victoria All-Stars in a double-header. Playing for a percentage, it is quite probable that canny Joe Martin will include in his line-up some of the professional players now in the service who are stationed in the vicinity of the Washington centre.

It is estimated that 25,000,000 man-days are lost annually by farmers through accidents.

Braves Turn Back Cardinals 5-4 in 14-Inning Battle

Culler's Single in Last Frame Drives Over Deciding Run—Brooklyn Dodgers Win Again

BOSTON, May 16 (AP).—Southpaw Bob Logan won his first major league game today as the Boston Braves took the second game of a double-header from the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-1, and went into fourth place in the National League. The Braves won the opener, 5-4, in 14 innings.

Manager Billy Southworth nominated Bud Byerly for the opener and he was let down hard in the ninth when the Braves collected three runs on one hit, a pass and two errors, to pull into a 4-4 tie.

With two out in that frame, Bill Donnelly took over and was effective until the 14th, when, with one out, Phil Masi doubled, Eddie Joost was passed purposely and Dick Culler singled through shortstop to drive in the winning run.

BROOKLYN DODGERS BEAT PIRATES AGAIN

BROOKLYN, N.Y., May 16 (AP).—Scoring one run at a time off Southpaw Al Gerheauser, Brooklyn Dodgers gained their 11th straight National League victory, defeating the Pirates, 2-1, today.

Hal Gregg earned his fifth win. The Pirates run, made in the first inning, was unearned, the result of errors by Augie Galan and Eddie Stanky. Gregg allowed only five hits.

Dodgers tied the count in the fourth and in the fifth a pass to Stanky, a muff by Barnhart and Olmo's single put the Dodgers in front. They scored their last tally in the seventh on Galan's triple and Walker's fly.

For Olmo, it was his 14th straight hitting contest.

VOISELLE BLANKS CHICAGO CUBS, 6-0

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP).—Bill Voiselle, of New York Giants, earned his seventh straight victory and second shutout of the National League season tonight by turning back Chicago Cubs with six hits, 6-0.

Manager Mel Ott and Phil Weintraub clouted their seventh homers to tie for the league lead in the sixth inning and Ernie Lombardi hit his sixth in the same frame, all off starter Hank Wyse.

Ott drove home three runs as New York pecked at Wyse for one in the first on Johnny Rucker's double, a sacrifice and Ott's single and another in the third on singles by Rucker and George Hausmann, an error by Bill Nicholson and an outfield fly by Ott. Three in the sixth were followed by a singleton in the seventh off Mack Stewart.

WET GROUNDS CANCEL SEATTLE SERIES

SEATTLE, May 16 (CP).—Rain forced another day of idleness on the Seattle and San Francisco Pacific Coast League baseball teams today making the grounds unfit for tonight's scheduled double-header.

Travel difficulties kept the teams from reaching Seattle in time to open the series as scheduled yesterday. Two games are billed for tomorrow night to help make up the lost time.

The Seattle club announced tonight that Ad Lihke, pitcher-fielder traded to Cincinnati's Reds on a trial basis, will be retained by the Reds in exchange for Pitcher John Orphal and an undisclosed cash payment. In addition, Seattle gained the services of Third Baseman Charley Aleno, who came to the local club when Cincinnati first took Lihke for the tryout.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 16 (AP).—Wet grounds forced postponement of the Los Angeles-Portland baseball series opener here tonight.

The two Coast League clubs will play double-headers Thursday and Friday nights to offset tonight's cancellation and last night's postponement due to a travel delay.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

MONTREAL, May 16 (CP).—Montreal Royals defeated Newark Bears here today, 5-2, to make a clean sweep of their International League three-game series and extend their win streak to four straight.

Royals got only three hits, one of them a scratch, but wildness on the part of Lefty Bill Houtz, who started for the Bears, gave them the ball game. Houtz walked eight and hit two in the six and one-third innings he worked. John Gabbard, on the mound for Royals, gave up only five hits and one of the game's oddities was that they were all for extra bases. Gabbard pitched steady ball to win.

Yesterday's score: Esquimalt High 15, Victoria High 14.

Next game: Today, Macdonald Park, 4.15, Oak Bay High vs. Mount View.

Coming from behind three times, the last time in the seventh inning, when they pushed across the tying and winning runs, Esquimalt High School won their first game in the Inter-High School Baseball League at Macdonald Park yesterday when they outlasted Victoria High, 15-14, in a free-hitting engagement.

Feature of the game was the route-going performance of 12-year-old J. Nichol, pint-sized Esquimalt hurler, who stuck it out to come up with the verdict.

Tying the count in the sixth with a three-run rally, the winners [illegible] Victoria High a single run in the first half of the seventh and then came back to score twice in their half. [illegible] singled, rode home on [illegible] triple with the tying counter and Eaton broke it up when he sent Crowe in with a single.

Heavy hitting by Wright and Crowe paced the winners' attack, each picking up three hits, including a triple, while Hamilton also slammed out a three-base knock. For the losers, Honess came through with four hits in four trips and Nelson poked out a three-bagger.

Playing at Macdonald Park on Tuesday evening, St. Louis College [illegible] [illegible] Mount View [illegible] 11-6 score. Tonight Oak Bay will go after their second win in as many starts when they encounter the Mount View nine in the seventh game of the 20-game schedule.

Rain Halts Training At Woodbine Track

TORONTO, May 16 (CP).—Horsemen have never seen anything like it.

With Ontario's 98-day racing season opening in three days, stall space at Woodbine Park is jammed with thoroughbreds awaiting the Ontario Jockey Club Spring meeting, but the weather—

"For 16 days now, nothing but rain, rain, rain," said one trainer today. "If it keeps up the bottom will drop right out of the track."

The unprecedented conditions have pitted Woodbine's backstretch with holes, causing owners to think twice before sending their charges over the course.

Circuit Blow In Ninth Wins Fastball Game

Rallying in spectacular fashion after trailing from the very first inning, Manager Bert Simpson's K.V.'s fastballers last night nudged Spruce Products, 5-4, in a "B" section fixture at Central Park.

K.V.'s, batting in defence of the championship they won last year, spotted the Spruce Products four runs in the first two frames and then fought an uphill fight to ultimate victory.

Two runs down going into the seventh frame, K.V.'s managed to push across the tying markers and then win the ball game on Rafferty's circuit blow in the last half of the ninth.

R.C.A.F. Chalks Up 18-12 Victory in Wild Ball Fixture

Flyers From Patricia Bay Take Army Into Camp in Slugging Bee—Casey Hits Homer

In a weird exhibition of the diamond pastime in which some good and a lot of bad baseball was packed, R.C.A.F. started their 1945 season off on the right foot when they took the long end of an 18-12 decision from the Army in a wild game at Athletic Park last night. A fair crowd saw practically everything in the book—scintillating fielding plays, errors of omission and commission, heavy hitting, the first home run of the year and a triple play.

Army were the chief offenders in the loose play, committing no less than 11 errors in their first appearance, lack of adequate practice making itself evident. On the other hand the Airmen displayed an improved club over last year, and given reasonably good pitching will be a factor in the pennant race. Particularly impressive was the smooth play of the infield and the able catching of Cliff Kilburn, while both Degrow and Stout, former fastballers, looked good in the outer gardens.

Both starting hurlers stuck it out on the mound until the finish, although their offerings were no puzzle to opposing batters. George Boston, southpaw veteran on the soldier line-up, received atrocious support but contributed to it himself with three errors and a wild pitch while his batterymate, Buck Buchanan, helped matters no little by allowing three past balls. Vince Hancock, winning hurler, got by until the seventh with good support but, visibly tiring, had little to offer in the late innings and was touched up freely.

Flyers won the contest in the first frame when they sent 12 men to the plate with eight of them scoring. A pass to Fairhurst, an error by Cross and another free ticket to Couling put the first three men on. Stout's single sent the first runners over while three more miscues, two by Boston, a passed ball, a walk and four more bingles accounted for the balance.

Army threatened in the second, but their rally was cut short by a triple play. Werstine doubled to start the inning and scored on Casey's hard single. A walk and a hit batsman filled the bases with none out. Buchanan lifted a fly ball to left field and Casey scored after the catch. Fairhurst cut the throw from the outfield off and turned to find Sutherland on second and Schurko scooting for the same bag. He whipped the ball in to Hunt who tagged Schurko sliding in and Sutherland was out when he broke for third.

CASEY CLOUTS FIRST HOME RUN OF SEASON

After the Airmen added another in the fourth, the soldiers came up with three in their half when Ray Casey poled a long home run over the fence in left centre with Callan and Werstine on the bags.

It was the closest the troops came to catching up. Taking advantage of Army errors and hitting hard with runners on, R.C.A.F. scored five in the sixth and added four more in the last three frames to amass their total. The losers managed three in the seventh and wound up with four more in the ninth when the winners made their only errors of the game, three of them by Gordie Todd, who replaced Couling at shortstop late in the contest.

Hitting four for five, including a double and a triple, Kilburn paced the winners with the willow while Ossie Degrow included two doubles among his three hits. Ray Casey led the army with two singles in addition to his round-tripper and batted in four runs. Pay and Holness contributed the fielding highlights in a game in which there was a surprising number of good defensive plays.

Third game of the schedule will be played at Athletic Park tomorrow evening at 6.15 when the old rivals, Navy and the V.M.D., clash in the first of their 1945 series.

TOAST and TEA

By J. V. McAREE

THERE used to be great rivalry between Dundee and Kirkaldy, a Scottish friend told us the other day, and he said that a story was told of a sea captain who employed a man from Dundee and another from Kirkaldy to ship with him on a voyage. To the disgust of the Dundee man, the Kirkaldy citizen got a better job with more pay. He protested, but the captain told him that the Kirkaldy man had a much better character and was a good deal more trustworthy. Therefore he merited better treatment. One day there was a sudden storm, and at the height of it the Kirkaldy sailor was going along the deck carrying a bucket when a wave swept him away into the raging sea. Not long afterward the Dundee sailor met the captain, who asked him if he had seen the Kirkaldy shipmate. "Him?" said the Dundee man derisively. "Him that ye said had such a fine character, didn't ye? Weel, I have to tell ye he's awa' wi' your bucket."

Phil Marchildon Has Been Released From German Prison Camp

TORONTO, May 16 (CP).—Phil Marchildon, one of 157 Canadian airmen whose release from German prisoner-of-war camps was announced tonight by the R.C.A.F. was one of Canada's outstanding contributions to major league baseball.

The 26-year-old, 175-pound right-hander from Penetanguishene, Ont., went to Philadelphia Athletics of the American League late in 1940 from Toronto's International League Maple Leafs and had his best season in 1942 when he won 17 and lost 14 with the second-division Athletics. He enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in November, 1942, and subsequently was reported missing, then a prisoner.

Marchildon joined Leafs in 1939, winning five and losing seven. In the same season he won six and lost none with Cornwall Bisons, of the Canadian-American League.

At the Theatres

Mirth Musical at Oak Bay, Plaza

A gay carnival of fun and laughter opens at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres today with Columbia Pictures' "Ever Since Venus." It is a tuneful screenful of music, romance and comedy and swell entertainment for the entire family. The scintillating rhythms of Ina Ray Hutton, the dazzling jive-bomber, and her orchestra, together with the wild antics of some of the screen's wackiest comedians, Billy Gilbert and Hugh Herbert, highlight this new musical laffilm.

"Ever Since Venus" boasts a rhythmirthful story of a beauty show sponsored by Alan Mowbray. Ina Ray Hutton and her orchestra are signed for the entertainment, and a prize is offered for a theme song for the exposition. Billy Gilbert surprises everyone by winning the prize.

Amusements

Cadet—Red Skelton, starring in "Bathing Beauty."

Capitol — "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," starring Van Johnson and Spencer Tracy.

Dominion — "Hotel Berlin," starring Faye Emerson and Helmut Dantine.

Oak Bay and Plaza—"Ever Since Venus," with Ina Ray Hutton.

York Film Is Romantic Comedy

"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" opens today at the York Theatre with Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur in the important roles.

It is an enchanting film, merry, human, romantic, intelligent, in the inimitable Capra manner. It brings a charming Gary Cooper to his innumerable fans, and it finds in Jean Arthur a star of the first magnitude, lovely, clever and sparkling. Together, under Mr. Capra's guiding wand, they have given a performance that lacks nothing. Mr. Cooper and Miss Arthur have a treat in store for you.

"Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" tells the fascinating story of a young man in a small town who falls heir to $20,000,000 left by an eccentric uncle.

He is brought to New York by his late uncle's attorney and dropped in the midst of a bunch of grafters—the attorney among them—who are out to leave Deeds as little of the fortune as possible.

Red Skelton in Technicolor Musical

The M-G-M behind the Technicolor musical opening tonight at the Cadet Theatre also stands for Mirth, Gals and Melody. These are the three spicy ingredients which have been whipped into the Red Skelton-Esther Williams comedy confection, "Bathing Beauty."

Red Skelton wins a rare chance to dig deep into his bag of tricks as a love-struck Broadway songsmith who becomes the sole male student in an all-girls' college. How Red fares at this higher education gives the old master of merriment an opportunity to earn his Ph.D. in zany comedy.

Esther Williams has the role as the curvaceous object of Red's affection who goes to school with Mr. Co-ed. Esther displays her talents as mermaid as well as actress in this musical; she stars in the spectacular water ballet which is one of its highlights.

RIO THEATRE — "The Rainbow," which ends tonight at the Rio Theatre, and is directed by Mark Donskoy, who is known here for his work on the Maxim Gorky film series, is an eyewitness report of what happened in Nazi-occupied Ukrainian villages, by Wanda Wasilewska, who wrote the novel on which the picture is based.

DOMINION THEATRE — As a Nazi-hating hotel hostess, Faye Emerson is afforded the opportunity to reach great dramatic heights during a fight scene with Alan Hale in Warners' "Hotel Berlin," which will end tonight at the Dominion Theatre. The brawl occurs in an air raid shelter after Hale, a Gestapo leader, comes to arrest her for befriending a Jewess.

CAPITOL THEATRE — Van Johnson and Phyllis Thaxter have the romantic leads in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's superb picturization of "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo," now showing at the Capitol Theatre. Van has taken the movie-going public by storm with his performances in "Two Girls and a Sailor" and "Three Men in White," and Phyllis is a brilliant young newcomer with looks and ability.

ATLAS THEATRE — After playing little girl parts for years, Judy Garland achieved screen maturity in "For Me and My Gal" and in "Presenting Lily Mars." Now in M-G-M's "Meet Me in St. Louis," the new Technicolor film now showing at the Atlas Theatre, Judy's a little girl again and she loves it. As Esther Smith, 17-year-old daughter of the Smith family of St. Louis, Judy wears almost an exact duplicate of the hairdress she wore in her Academy Award portrayal of Dorothy.

Assize Jury Acquits Man at Bigamy Trial

Deliberating for an hour and a half, a jury at the Assizes yesterday acquitted Edward Schacht, 61, naturalized Canadian of Polish origin, charged with committing bigamy. Joseph McKenna appeared for Schacht, and J B Clearihue, K.C., for the Crown.

Schacht's marriage to Bertha [illegible] in 1912, and his second marriage to Caroline Kowalesky, 61, in Victoria in October, 1943, were admitted.

Detectives Fearon Woodburn and Louis Callan and Constable A H Rudge, city police, testified that Schacht twice told them he knew his first wife was living in Winnipeg when he married the second time

Schacht denied making any such admission, and claimed he said he knew after his second marriage that his first wife was still living. He stated he made inquiries through Rev. W. F Doeling, a Lutheran minister, when aranging his second marriage. His first wife left him 20 years ago, leaving four children on his hands, he testified.

For the defence Mr. McKenna argued there was a presumption in law if a person were absent seven years, that he or she was dead. The Criminal Code provided, he said, that there was no offence of bigamy if a spouse had not been heard from in seven years and nothing was known of the absent person. He emphasized Schacht's claim that he told the police he did not know at the time of his marriage that his first wife was alive, but found out later.

Mr. Clearihue contended the jury had only one choice to make, between believing the Crown evidence or Schacht's denial of it. In addition to the evidence of the police officers, he said, the Lutheran minister testified Schacht told him his first wife might be alive.

Witnesses included F. W. Weston, assistant director of vital statistics, Mary Shattenkirk and Balint Liebhauser, witnesses to the second wedding, all for the Crown. Schacht was the only defence witness.

Jurymen were Ernest J. Dicker, foreman; E. W. Pitman, Arthur Levy, M O. Humber, H. R. Millburn, Richard Holman, A. R. Bell, Boyd Ramsay, H O. Allan, Robert Noble, Jr., Robert Greaves and B. A. Keeble.

Such was the opinion of Forrest L Shaw, city solicitor, who attended a meeting of the Greater Victoria Airport Committee last night in the City Hall council chamber

Mr. Shaw was present to answer questions involving legal aspects, and was asked to draft a reply to several inquiries made at the meeting Among them was the question of Major H Cuthbert Holmes, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce who asked, "Who will own the proposed airport?" It involved a number of technicalities, Mr. Shaw replied He was not prepared to present an immediate answer.

It was noted that the Gordon Head airport site consisted of land owned by Saanich, Oak Bay, the Dominion Government and the Hudson's Bay Company. Total area, Alderman B J. Gadsden noted, was approximately 450 acres, of which roughly 200 acres were within Saanich.

Nearly 80 per cent of the land under consideration was owned by the Dominion Government and the Hudson's Bay Company.

At a request of Alderman E Williams, a blueprint of the site will be made to show each section of land involved, and its present ownership.

Councillor J. L. Hobbs, representing Saanich, reiterated his statements that his municipality was strongly opposed to the establishment of an airfield at Gordon Head He said persons hesitated to purchase land in the area, fearing that an airport might be placed there.

R. H B Ker suggested that a subcommittee be formed to "educate" the Gordon Head residents that an airport there would not prove harmful to life or property.

The group includes Alderman Gadsden, Councillor P A Moir, Oak Bay, Councillor J. P. A Christensen, Esquimalt; Councillor Thomas Alexander, Saanich, and Mr Ker, Chamber of Commerce.

"I have spoken to a number of the Gordon Head residents," reported Alderman Gadsden, "and I do not think they will strenuously oppose the field" Mr Ker thought any [illegible]

The meeting concluded with presentation of maps of the proposed site at Gordon Head. Boundaries were explained by R. H. Smith, assistant city engineer. He stated that further contour and wind surveys would be made at an early date.

City Wants Share Of Wartime Fines

A request that the Dominion Government turn over to municipalities all or part of fines levied in municipal police courts for violations of wartime regulations, is contained in a resolution to be presented by Mayor Percy E. George to the convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities at Toronto next month.

The resolution states that prosecutions under wartime regulations are taking up a great deal of time in municipal police courts, but fines levied are payable to the Receiver-General for Canada It notes that the municipality provides the magistrate stenographer and other officials, as well as paying the cost of office work involved but receives only $2.50 in costs

"This is not merely a local matter but applies to every city in Canada," the resolution says It was decided on at a recent meeting of the city police commission

40 FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS

40A BUILDING MATERIAL

SOME EXPERTS SAY CANADA WILL get 40,000 houses built in 1945, others say we need 1,000,000 NEW HOMES. Let's aim high for this industry which will make jobs for 1,000's and 1,000's all down the line. Reports from those who know tell us taxes on building materials being lifted, ordinances being sharpened to cut out red tape and at last daylight ahead. BUT don't rush! Lumber is still a weapon of war, needed on high priority work and essential projects. There's not sufficient lumber for everybody, which will mean delays so give your dealer plenty of time. However we can still supply WALLBOARD. Strong ¾ in. Thick. Are The Fibreboard. Pleasant rough-cast finish, tops in insulation, cuts and nails easier than lumber, comes cheaper, giant-size sheets to fit any room or wall. Just the finish for attic or basement rooms.

Laymen Frown on Dancing, Smokes

VANCOUVER, May 16 (CP).—Dancing and cigarette smoking were criticized yesterday at the annual meeting of the Lay Association British Columbia Conference, United Church of Canada.

Prevalence of cigarette smoking among youths—male and female—was brought up for a second time at the later session when a delegate deprecated the fact that although the United Church had taken a definite stand against liquor, it had not come out strongly against the cigarette habit.

When it was suggested that addiction to the cigarette was forerunner to the liquor habit, the discussion dissolved without any resolution being passed.

A resolution, regretting that the church seems inclined to take sides with Socialism, Communism, capitalism or some other [illegible] rather than with the spiritual viewpoint, was passed by the association.

Officers elected were W. E. Pinchin, White Rock, president, succeeding E. C. Duncan, Vancouver, G. F. Turner, Vancouver, vice-president, F. H. Fullerton (re-elected), secretary-treasurer.

Seven Presbytery vice-presidents: J. A. Fraser, Quesnel, for Cariboo; Capt. W. J. Scott, Creston, Kootenay; William Niles, Vernon, Kamloops-Okanagan; James Grey, Prince Rupert; A. Sullivan, Victoria; W. J. Poulton, Vancouver, and T. F. Beresford, New Westminster.

Annual meeting of the British Columbia Conference of the United Church opened today.

Censorship Ceases

LONDON, May 16 (CP).—Information Minister Brendan Bracken announced today that all internal censorship in Britain has ceased and that within 30 days censorship of mail to the United States, Canada and Gibraltar would be lifted. Censorship of mail to Eire and other overseas countries would continue.

ICE CREAM CRUSH

LONDON (CP).—Crowds queueing for ice cream in Leicester Square, heart of the entertainment district, have forced the management of one establishment to hire a special doorman to keep customers in line and the sidewalks clear.

Mort Cooper Quits Cardinals Because Of Salary Dispute

BOSTON, May 16 (AP).—Intimating that Morton Cooper had suspended himself by quitting the St. Louis Cardinals without warning, Manager Billy Southworth today indicated that the big righthand pitcher's salary dispute was entirely in the hands of Club President Sam Breadon.

"This is a tough time to quit the club, with our pitching staff in its present condition," Southworth said.

"Frankly, I don't know what's wrong, although he did tell some of the players there was sickness in his family. I have not had any differences with Mort and have found him willing to do everything I asked of him."

Southworth learned about Cooper's latest disappearance early this morning when Road Secretary Leo Ward notified him that the pitcher was taking a 5 a.m. plane to New York to join his wife before entraining for St. Louis.

No. 13 Good, Bad For B.C. Airman

VANCOUVER, May 16 (CP).—The number 13 has brought both good and bad luck to Flt. Lt. J. D. Penn McLeod, of Vancouver. His mother, Mrs. Donald McLeod, was notified April 13 of her son's release from a prisoner-of-war camp.

Flt.-Lt. McLeod was a pre-medical student at the University of British Columbia before he enlisted April 13, 1941. He received his wings April 13, 1942. He was married July 13 of the same year and went overseas December 13. He was reported a prisoner of war April 13, 1943.

McTague Critical Of Gibson Charge

HAMILTON, Ont., May 16 (CP).—C. P. McTague, national chairman of the Progressive Conservative Party, in a campaign speech tonight for the June 11 Federal election replied to a statement he said was made at Brampton, Ont., last week by Air Minister Colin Gibson. Mr. McTague said Col. Gibson had stated that he (McTague), Henry Bordeo, K.C., of Toronto, and Maj.-Gen. G R. Pearkes, V.C., had taken down their "Canada" badges and substituted "Prog. Con."

Mr McTague, former chairman of the National War Labor Board, spoke at a meeting addressed by John Bracken, national Progressive Conservative leader. Mr. McTague said he left the Ontario Court of Appeals to accept a Government war job on Col. Gibson's invitation.

He had served overseas with Col. Gibson and respected his record, Mr. McTague said, but the Air Minister's views seemed to have been distorted by connection with the 20 Cabinet ministers in the East Block at Ottawa who had the idea "they were Canada."

Any member of the present Government who thought he had the Canada badge on his shoulder just couldn't read, said Mr McTague. Their shoulder badges spelled "K-I-N-G" and nothing else.

Charge German War Prisoners Coddled

LONDON, May 17 (Thursday) (CP).—Denying published reports that Willy Messerschmitt, ace German plane designer, is living a "life of luxury" in a London flat, the Air Ministry said today that his living scale is that of an ordinary non-working prisoner of war.

The Air Ministry had "no word" of a Daily Express report of a strike among 25 Waafs waiting table at the R.A.F. mess where Messerschmitt and more than 100 other high-ranking Germans eat daily.

The Air Ministry said Messerschmitt shares a room with two other German prisoners and assists in cleaning his room and makes his own bed.

The Daily Mirror, in an attack yesterday on "coddling" of German war prisoners, said Messerschmitt "is having a grand time in London—at the British taxpayers' expense."

This story said the 47-year-old Messerschmitt, a member of Hitler's War Council, had been brought to London a month ago to make his technical knowledge available to British authorities.

Partisans Help Airmen Escape

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng., May 16 (CP).—Flt. Lt. Stuart N. May, of Weston, Ont., has returned to Britain after six fantastic months with Partisan bands of Russians, Czechs, Serbs, Tartars, Hungarians and even outlawed Germans in the mountains of Eastern Czecho-Slovakia.

May was shot down after a day-[illegible] Czecho-Slovakia with his navigator, P.O. Jack Ritch, of Edmonton, last October 17.

May and Ritch kept on the move until nightfall, when a Czech accompanied them into the hills. They came upon two Russian Partisan officers, who took them to their headquarters, where it was planned that they escape via a Czech airdrome held by the Partisans.

This plan failed.

The Canadians decided to reach the front line some distance away and got within six kilometres of their destination and learned the Germans were carrying out a huge encircling movement.

May and Ritch retreated, unsure of the way to turn because friendly and enemy snipers were all around them. The Partisans picked them up again. He and Ritch spent Christmas and New Year's in the hills.

They joined a group of Partisans going to a nearby village. The Germans arrived while they were there and killed many of another group which tried to make for the hills. May and Ritch escaped and joined yet another group in which was a section of German Partisans who still wore their army uniforms.

In intense cold and blizzard the party made its way over the mountains to the front line near Brenzo, March 19, and made its way to the Russian headquarters.

SASKATOON, Sask., May 16 (CP).—Dr. Peter Donald Stewart, 80, pioneer Saskatoon physician who in 1902 used a shack for an office, died suddenly today.

Born in Bruce County, Ontario, Dr. Stewart was widely known as plain "P.D." In the early days his practice extended 50 miles square. He made his rounds driving a white pony.

A sister, Sara, of Saskatoon, a pioneer school teacher, survives.

U.S. Seventh Army Answers Criticism

ROSENHEIM, Germany, May 16 (AP).—A United States Seventh Army statement said tonight its treatment of captured Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering "has been strictly in accordance with the Geneva Convention, which provides that even the most notorious prisoners of war must be fed, watered and clothed until such time as his ultimate fate is decided by process of law."

Nazi Labor Leader Ley Taken Prisoner

WITH UNITED STATES SEVENTH ARMY IN GERMANY, May 16 (Reuters).—Robert Ley, one-time German Labor Minister and chief proponent of Hitler's "Strength through joy" movement, was captured today, 45 miles south of Berchtesgaden.

Disappears With Certified Cheque

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., May 16 (CP).—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of a man who gave his name as Peter Harold Forsyth when he was engaged by the Dominion Government Experimental Station here, May 3 and disappeared last Saturday after allegedly receiving a certified cheque for $925 from an undertaker at Hanna, contracting to deliver a panel-delivery truck to the undertaker last Saturday evening. Police said that the man is wanted for fraud.

When the man arrived here he told officials at the experimental station that he was formerly a wing commander in the R.C.A.F., had been shot down in North Africa and held as a prisoner of war in Germany for several years before escaping to England.

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 16 (AP).—The Cordova Daily Times is not publishing at present because its last shipment of newsprint literally missed the boat. The Times reported a similar suspension happened a few years ago and "we expect to resume soon."

LONDON, May 16 (AP).—Field Marshal Montgomery is resting at Hindhead, Surrey. It was reported that the field marshal, exhausted from the European campaign, was seeing only personal friends and that he would remain several days before returning to duty.

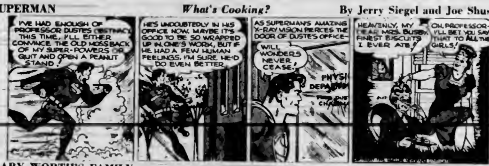

Tickets for the Forty-Third Anniversary Electrical Workers' Banquet, Friday, May 18, are almost sold out. Members desiring tickets should notify the Union Office immediately.
